Philippines Quakes Destroy Hundreds Of Homes, 164 Dead

Damage Said In Millions Of Pesos

MANILA, Saturday, April 2 (AP)—Devastating earthquakes killed at least 164 persons in the southern Philippines yesterday.

Thousands more were homeless. Several cities were without light and water. Damage was estimated in millions of pesos.

For nearly eight hours the earth rocked and trembled intermittently.

Fissures three to four feet wide split highways, halting traffic.

Homes Are Destroyed

Hundreds of homes were destroyed. Some on Lake Lanao, the center of the quakes, toppled into the water.

After the first shock the water of the lake itself receded three to four feet, a Lanao provincial constabulary officer reported.

"I heard a rush of water as if there was suction in the center of the lake," said Lt. Col. Antonio Garcia. The water was still below normal level many hours later.

Casualty reports compiled by the Philippine News Service totaled 164 dead in five districts alone of Lanao Province. The Manila Times reported the same figures.

President Magsaysay, a presidential spokesman said, will make a special trip to Mindanao Island today to view the damage.

Early reports at Iligan City indicated that most of the victims were killed in the collapse of buildings. Iligan has a population of 25,725. In Dansalan City, Lanao Province capital, some buildings were buried under rock slides but there were no known deaths there.

Quakes Begin Early

The series of quakes began early in the morning while most people were asleep. Men, woman and children rushed from their homes, snatching up clothes and cooking utensils as they ran.

Lights went out soon after the first shock hit.

When daylight came, dazed survivors began digging through the rubble and debris seeking the dead and injured. Others huddled in little groups, their belongings heaped beside them.

Roads Are Impassable

Roads were impassable. Even steel and concrete bridges were reduced to twisted wreckage. On one 35-mile stretch of highway surveyed from the air between Iligan and Kapatagan at least nine bridges were destroyed.

Defense Secretary Sotero Cabahug flew to Iligan with first aid equipment and medical supplies.

Demos Attack Ike's Foreign Defense Policy

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Democrats, in Senate speeches, accused President Eisenhower and his administration today of confusion, contradiction and "leading us to the brink of nuclear war."

The criticism broke out during debate on defense policy and several phases of international relations.

Sen. Scott (D-NC) attacked Eisenhower personally as "the master architect of confusion."

He said the administration is saturated with confusion and the confusion "has its main source in presidential swaying in the wind and drifting with the current."

Many Democrats have avoided criticizing Eisenhower personally since they took over control of Congress in January, but Scott said, "It is time we stopped criticizing the bat boys and begin to see just what kind of a job the pitcher is doing."

Scott is a former governor of North Carolina who was elected to the Senate last November. He told the chamber:

"We can never have real leadership as long as the President tries to handle the tough decisions by putting them off, by passing the buck to others, or by ducking responsibility for the acts of his subordinates."

He referred, for one thing, to reports that Eisenhower has not decided whether to defend Quemoy and Matsu if the Chinese Communists attack these offshore islands, now held by the Nationalists.

In another speech, Sen. Symington (D-Mo) told the Senate the administration's policy in cutting back Army strength is bringing the nation close to a nuclear conflict.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) joined in the outcry with an assertion that the Eisenhower administration "has stuttered, contradicted itself and has often been silent in making America's case before the world."

Douglas was appealing for an expanding program to help underdeveloped nations.

Auto Workers Gear Planning

CLEVELAND, April 1 (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers sought today to gear their long-range planning to the rapid automation of the giant auto industry.

To meet the trend toward the push-button factory, the UAW convention adopted a resolution calling for:

1. An eventual 30-hour work week.

2. Broader seniority rights to protect workers of long service.

3. Joint company-union training programs to help workers displaced by machines to prepare for other jobs.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther already had proclaimed a 30-hour work week as the union's next major demand after the battle for a guaranteed annual wage.

Today's automation resolution backed him up, saying:

"The new technology makes it imperative that we take the next step in the historic fight for a shorter work week."

It said, however, that, "It is not possible now to set up an exact timetable for the progressive reduction of the work week."

Organized labor also is seeking shorter work weeks through legislation.

Soldier's Conviction For Manslaughter Is Upended

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — A soldier's tent is his castle, the United States Court of Military Appeals ruled today in upsetting the manslaughter conviction of an Army private.

It said that consequently a soldier has the same right to stand firm against a trespasser as a civilian has in his home.

The tribunal ordered a rehearing of the case of Pfc. Robert W. Adams, 26, of Drew, Miss., originally convicted of murder after the fatal shooting of two fellow soldiers in a row over a poker game in Korea.

A board of review already had reduced the verdict to voluntary manslaughter and cut Adams' penalty from 25 to 15 years.

The testimony was that, after Adams was accused of cheating and denied it, a corporal came after Adams in Adams' own tent with two rocks in his hands. Adams had a rifle and, in the scuffling, the corporal bent down and snatched another rifle from under a cot.

"Adams fired twice," wrote Chief Judge Robert E. Quinn in today's opinion. "One shot killed the corporal. The other passed through the tent and lodged in the back of the skull of a sergeant. He, too, was killed."

The unanimous opinion said the court-martial and board of review failed to note that when Adams retired to his own tent "he retreated as far as the law demands."

"Generally," the opinion said, "a military person's place of abode is the place where he bunks and keeps his few private possessions. His home is the particular place where the necessities of the service force him to live. This may be a barracks, a tent or even a foxhole.

"Whatever the name of his place of abode, it is his 'castle' and he is there entitled to stand his ground against a trespasser to the same extent that a civilian is entitled to stand fast in his civilian home."

Refund Claim Against Rails Denied By ICC

Federal Government Sought $3 Billions For Freight Bills

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The government's claim that the railroads owe it between two and three billion dollars in refunds on World War II military freight bills was denied in a unanimous decision today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission ruled that there was no basis for the Justice Department seeking the refunds. It dismissed 17 war materials reparations cases which together amounted to the largest money proceeding ever handled by the commission.

Rates Were Lower

The railroads argued that the rates charged for handling government shipments during the war were below those quoted for any private shipper.

The Justice Department argued that the rates should have been reduced considerably because of the great volume of military freight handled by the railroads for the armed forces.

It was developed at commission hearings that the government paid the railroads $6,204,238,000 for wartime freight handled between 1941 and 1946.

One of the points made by railroad witnesses was that the carriers had already paid income taxes on this amount during the years in question. They added the industry had been advised by the Internal Revenue Service that, due to the lapse of time, it could not seek tax refunds even if required to refund a portion of the income.

All Railroads Involved

Involved in the claims were every railroad in the country, as well as many electric lines, terminal operators and stockyard companies.

Although the government itself never estimated the reparation claims exactly, most participants in the cases roughly estimated them at two billion dollars. Some railroad interests said the figure was closer to three billion. The ICC merely called the amount "large by any standard of comparison."

Doctor Is Arrested For Practice Without Pennsylvania License

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 1 (AP)—Dr. Newton D. Allen, a staff member at the Hoxsey cancer clinic in Portage, Pa., was arrested today on a charge of practicing medicine without a Pennsylvania license.

Dist. Atty. Ray G. Zelt of Washington County said an information filed by Washington County detectives charged Allen "misrepresented himself as a medical doctor."

Dr. Allen posted $500 bond pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Helen Cheti in nearby Dunlevy. No date was set for the hearing. Dr. Allen lives in Eighty-Four, Washington County. He practiced there and in Pittsburgh before the Hoxsey clinic opened last month.

The Hoxsey treatment for cancer has been labeled "worthless" by the American Medical Assn.

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP)—Edward A. Hayes, 62, former national commander of the American Legion, died today.

Senate Ratifies Paris Treaties

West German Rearmament Backed, 76-2

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The Senate today voted U.S. ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

The historic vote, designed to make the German Republic a sovereign member of the European defense chain against Communist aggression, was 76-2. It came after little more than three hours' debate.

Improves Big 4 Meeting

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee which approved the treaties 14-1 yesterday, said in opening the brief debate that ratification would "improve the chances for a Big Four or Big Five meeting that will produce something more constructive and helpful than stalemate and propaganda."

U.S. action had been held off until the accords had been approved by the two key participants, West Germany and France. Legislative action needs to be completed now in Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Luxembourg, and this is expected to follow within a month.

Two Agreements Needed

Only two of the four treaties in the Paris package agreement required approval by the U.S. Senate. They were:

1. The pact ending the occupation of West Germany by the United States, Britain and France, and permitting the West Germans to organize their own army and air force. Action on this has now been completed all around and it is expected the actual formation of a new German military force will begin some time later this year.

2. The treaty admitting West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member. This has been approved finally by 10 member nations and West Germany. It has yet to be approved by Denmark and Luxembourg and by the senates in Belgium and The Netherlands.

Langer Predicts War

The two other pacts, not requiring U.S. action, would "Europeanize" the Saar and enlarge the Western European Union to include Italy and West Germany.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), who voted with Sen. Malone (R-Nev) against the treaties, predicted that "the Saar question will rise up and haunt the signatories of this treaty and in my opinion will be one of the causes of a world war."

Lone Bandit Holds Up Bank

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—A bold young bandit held up a crowded bank at the hub of America's financial world today, and after a stroll with a helpful bank guard, walked calmly away with $7,277.

The fantastic sequence of chance and bravado, which had the overtones of an April fool's farce, came as the Wall Street area was crowded with lunch-hour thousands.

Carrying a canvas bag, the youth entered the busy downtown branch of the Marine Midland Trust Co. Holding one hand in his pocket as if he had a weapon, he shoved a note to a teller.

"Keep calm," the ink-printed note read. "I want money. Put all the money in the bag. Give me five minutes to get out."

Teller Robert Y. Barham nervously crammed the bag full of currency. As the youth walked away with it, Barham began waving the holdup note wildly in the air.

A bank guard, noticing the gesture and thinking a customer had forgotten something, intercepted the robber and politely led him back to the window.

The teller was speechless under the youth's steely gaze. Without batting an eye, the bandit thanked the guard, who turned away. Then with a parting hard look at Teller Barham, the youth again made an unhurried departure.

Shigemitsu Visit Still Is Unofficial

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The State Department said today it has no official word on a visit from Japanese Foreign Minister Shigemitsu to the United States, and Kyodo News Agency said he would leave in three or four days.

A check with the State Department brought word that no official notice had as yet been received. A spokesman said much advance preparations, taking several weeks' time, must go into arrangements for a visit by any foreign official as high ranking as the Japanese foreign minister.

Denounces Resolution

Sitting on the steps to the Capitol, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) talks with newsmen after denouncing in the Senate a move by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) to put Congress on record as opposed to the use of U. S. forces in the defense of the offshore Formosa islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Knowland said resolution "would be deterimental to morale."

Col. M'Cormick, Chicago Tribune Editor, Succumbs

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune who was world renowned as a world fighter for principles, died today.

McCormick, who would have been 75 on July 30 of this year, died at 2:47 a.m. at his Catigny farm in suburban Wheaton from a complication of diseases.

His health had been impaired since he suffered an attack of pneumonia after returning from a European trip in April 1953. He underwent an abdominal operation for adhesions Jan. 19.

He died peacefully in his sleep. His widow, Mrs. Maryland Mathison McCormick; his step-daughter, Mrs. Ann Hooper Warner; and Mrs. Horace Wetmore, a friend and neighbor, were at his bedside. McCormick had no children.

His death brought expressions of sympathy and regret from President Eisenhower, newspaper and news executives, members of Congress and others.

Private funeral services will be held Monday at his home on the Cantigny farm. A memorial service was planned for Tuesday at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago.

McCormick was the key figure in the organization that published two newspapers with a total circulation of more than three million daily and more than five million on Sunday—the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

Besides his Tribune positions his other offices included chairman, vice president and treasurer of the News Syndicate Co., publishers of the Daily News; chairman, vice president and treasurer of the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate Inc., marketing agency for comics and features; and president of WGN, Inc., operator of radio station WGN and television station WGN-TV.

Churches To Welcome Many New Members

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Indications are that more new members will be welcomed into churches during the coming Holy Week than during any previous seven days in American history, a church official said today.

The Rev. Berlyn Farris, executive director of the Evangelism Department of the National Council of Churches, made the prediction on the basis of reports from various denominations.

Rubber Workers Halt Production

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Production in 19 U. S. Rubber Co. plants throughout the nation was halted today as some 35,000 CIO rubber workers struck to back demands for longer vacations and other benefits. Wages are not an issue in the strike.

The walkout stopped production of automobile tires, footwear, chemicals and synthetics. It began last midnight when the old contract expired.

Henry Grunewald Is Given 5-Years Sentence To Prison

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, Washington's fabulous peddler of influence, was sentenced to prison today. He got the maximum five years for tax fixing from a judge who called him a termite in the nation's vitals.

Although he threw himself on the mercy of the court, the 62-year-old Grunewald plans an appeal from the first prison term of his life. He was given freedom on bond to get it started.

In the same tax fix case, Max Halperin, 70-year-old New York lawyer, was entenced to five years and fined $8,000. Sentencing of a third defendant, Daniel A. Bolich, former asst. internal revenue commissioner, was postponed to April 14.

Planetarium Swamped With April Fool Calls

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP) — Invariably on this date the Adler Planetarium is swamped with phone calls for "Mr. Star." It keeps a couple of secretaries busy all day answering the stock reply:

"This is the Adler Planetarium. Today is April 1. Someone has played an April fool's joke on you."

But this year the girls changed all that. Now they say, "Which one do you want; we've got millions of 'em."

They report the dawn comes more slowly for some callers than for others.

Streetcar Workers Resume Their Strike

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, April 1 (AP)— Amsterdam's municipal streetcar workers resumed their wildcat strike today an hour after they returned to work.

Streetcars came out of the barns after Amsterdam's Mayor Arnold J. D'Ailly promised to receive union negotiators if the strikers would start work immediately.

Safety Expert Backs Highway Building Plans

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—A safety expert told Congress today that 3,500 lives a year could be saved by completion of the 40,000-mile interstate system of modern superhighways.

This would be about a tenth of the 36,300 who died in traffic accidents last year.

This testimony was by Carl E. Fritts, vice president in charge of engineering for the Automotive Safety Foundation.

Another witness, Sidney J. Williams, assistant to the president of the National Safety Council, said if traffic volume increases by 50 per cent in the next 10 years, as estimated, "accidents at the present rate will take 55,000 lives a year."

Fritts and Williams testified before a Senate Public Works subcommittee, conducting hearings on proposed highway plans. A proposal by President Eisenhower is aimed at modernizing the 40,000-mile interstate network in 10 years.

Fritts testified that the death rate on modern controlled highways such as Shirley Highway in nearby Virginia, the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the New Jersey Turnpike, and the Merritt Parkway in Connecticut, has been less than half that on parallel roads without controlled access and modern features.

Williams said that safety campaigns of the last three decades had made steady progress in reducing the highway accident rate.

He said the death rate was 18 per hundred million vehicle miles traveled in 1925, but was down to 6.5 in 1954.

Actress To Wed

YVOY-LE-MARRON, France, April 1 (AP)—Screen actress Olivia De Haviland will marry French movie reporter Pierre Galante tomorrow in this tiny village on the edge of the picturesque Loire Chateau country.

Cathedral Stonecutter Falls 80 Feet Off Scaffold, Dies

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The master stonecutter who has carved much of the beauty into the Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral fell to his death today from a scaffold high on the building.

The work he loved so well led to the death of Joseph Ratti who came from Italy many years ago to do carvings in most of the major cities in the United States.

He was 80 feet above ground on a scaffold on the western nave when he apparently slipped through an opening and fell 15 feet to the next level.

James Smith, a carpenter foreman, was on the same scaffold but facing away from the stonecutter. He said he heard Ratti hit the scaffolding below. Police said it was uncertain whether he lost his footing or had a heart attack.

Ratti had just finished carving a gargoyle on an exterior buttress and apparently was moving to the next one.

A church official said it was the first serious accident in the construction of the cathedral which began 48 years ago and still is far from completed.

Ratti, who was 67, had been working on the cathedral for 12 years. A sturdy little man with powerful, calloused hands, he was one of the last artists in a vanishing profession.

As is usually done on such jobs, stone at the cathedral is put into place uncarved. Blueprints show designs roughed in. It was Ratti's job to carve them the way he thought they looked best.

The cathedral architect, Philip H. Frohman, passes on all the stonecarving. Ratti's last work was formally approved a few minutes after he died.

Asks Congress To Buck China Isles Defense

Knowland Denounces Resolution By Demo; Would Defeat Asians

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader fought back tonight against a move by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) to put Congress on record against any American defense of Quemoy and the Matsus, Formosa's island outposts.

Sen. Knowland of California said he thought that if Congress gave serious consideration to Morse's proposal the effect on morale would be so bad that "within two years most of Asia would fall behind the Iron Curtain."

Morse had told the Senate earlier that if the United States fought for the islands it would be taking part in a Chinese civil war which is "none of its business."

Critical Situation

The free world faces a "very critical situation" in the next 90 days, Knowland replied, and the Senate cannot afford to be divided on Far Eastern policy.

He said the Morse proposal, which gathered some support from other Democrats, would "tie the hands" of President Eisenhower and, inadvertently, could well lead to further Communist aggression in Asia. The Chinese Communists have proclaimed their intention of seizing Quemoy and the Matsus.

Morse introduced a resolution to put Congress on record against allowing the U.S. Army, Navy or Air Force to help the Chinese Nationalists hold the islands if they are attacked by the Chinese Reds. Quemoy and the Matsus lie close to the mainland.

This country is pledged to aid in the defense of Formosa, the main Nationalist stronghold, but the Eisenhower administration has not said publicly whether it will resist a Communist assault on the smaller offshore islands.

Opens New Debate

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) opened a new debate on the question today with an assertion that President Eisenhower is adopting a "deadly dangerous" attitude in refusing to say whether the United States will defend Quemoy and the Matsus. McCarthy said the United States should serve notice on the Reds it will defend the islands.

At a White House conference yesterday, McCarthy said, Eisenhower apparently told Senate leaders that American reaction to strikes against the islands would depend on "the nature and strength" of the Red attack.

"I am completely bewildered by the administration's attitude," McCarthy said. "It is deadly dangerous and utterly inexplicable."

Last January Congress passed overwhelmingly a resolution authorizing Eisenhower to fight if necessary for the defense of Formosa.

Specifically, he was authorized to use any measures he considers necessary to safeguard Formosa and the Pescadores Islands and to secure and protect "related positions and territories."

Morse's proposal would amend the January resolution by stating "it shall not be construed to authorize the President to employ any of the armed forces of the United States in military operations concerning the Matsu and Quemoy Islands."

Police Widen Slayer Search

DETROIT, April 1 (AP)—Infuriated police, making no attempt to hide their outrage, plunged into a search today for 7-year-old Barbara Gaca's rapist-killer.

With solid clues to work from, all law enforcement agencies of the big Detroit metropolitan area combined in a vast hunt for an apparently sex-crazed kidnaper.

He was the one who lured brown-eyed little Barbara from her path to school March 24, later to ravish her and choke and stab her to death.

Barbara's body, partly clad, was found in an army blanket in an Oakland County rural area dump yesterday, 25 miles from the girl's home on Detroit's East Side.

The blood-smeared blanket was a major clue. So were automobile tire tracks leading to the dump.

With the discovery of Barbara's slaying came the first actual clues to the eight-day-old disappearance of the postman's daughter. Until a railway section hand found her body there had not been a solitary sign of what happened to her.

Refund Claim Against Rails Denied By ICC

Federal Government Sought $3 Billions For Freight Bills

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The government's claim that the railroads owe it between two and three billion dollars in refunds on World War II military freight bills was denied in a unanimous decision today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission ruled that there was no basis for the Justice Department seeking the refunds. It dismissed 17 war materials reparations cases which together amounted to the largest money proceeding ever handled by the commission.

Rates Were Lower

The railroads argued that the rates charged for handling government shipments during the war were below those quoted for any private shipper.

The Justice Department argued that the rates should have been reduced considerably because of the great volume of military freight handled by the railroads for the armed forces.

It was developed at commission hearings that the government paid the railroads $6,204,238,000 for wartime freight handled between 1941 and 1946.

One of the points made by railroad witnesses was that the carriers had already paid income taxes on this amount during the years in question. They added the industry had been advised by the Internal Revenue Service that, due to the lapse of time, it could not seek tax refunds even if required to refund a portion of the income.

All Railroads Involved

Involved in the claims were every railroad in the country, as well as many electric lines, terminal operators and stockyard companies.

Although the government itself never estimated the reparation claims exactly, most participants in the cases roughly estimated them at two billion dollars. Some railroad interests said the figure was closer to three billion. The ICC merely called the amount "large by any standard of comparison."

Doctor Is Arrested For Practice Without Pennsylvania License

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 1 (AP)—Dr. Newton D. Allen, a staff member at the Hoxsey cancer clinic in Portage, Pa., was arrested today on a charge of practicing medicine without a Pennsylvania license.

Dist. Atty. Ray G. Zelt of Washington County said an information filed by Washington County detectives charged Allen "misrepresented himself as a medical doctor."

Dr. Allen posted $500 bond pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Helen Cheti in nearby Dunlevy. No date was set for the hearing. Dr. Allen lives in Eighty-Four, Washington County. He practiced there and in Pittsburgh before the Hoxsey clinic opened last month.

The Hoxsey treatment for cancer has been labeled "worthless" by the American Medical Assn.

West German Rearmament Backed, 76-2

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The Senate today voted U.S. ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

The historic vote, designed to make the German Republic a sovereign member of the European defense chain against Communist aggression, was 76-2. It came after little more than three hours' debate.

Improves Big 4 Meeting

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee which approved the treaties 14-1 yesterday, said in opening the brief debate that ratification would "improve the chances for a Big Four or Big Five meeting that will produce something more constructive and helpful than stalemate and propaganda."

U.S. action had been held off until the accords had been approved by the two key participants, West Germany and France. Legislative action needs to be completed now in Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Luxembourg, and this is expected to follow within a month.

Two Agreements Needed

Only two of the four treaties in the Paris package agreement required approval by the U.S. Senate. They were:

1. The pact ending the occupation of West Germany by the United States, Britain and France, and permitting the West Germans to organize their own army and air force. Action on this has now been completed all around and it is expected the actual formation of a new German military force will begin some time later this year.

2. The treaty admitting West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member. This has been approved finally by 10 member nations and West Germany. It has yet to be approved by Denmark and Luxembourg and by the senates in Belgium and The Netherlands.

Langer Predicts War

The two other pacts, not requiring U.S. action, would "Europeanize" the Saar and enlarge the Western European Union to include Italy and West Germany.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), who voted with Sen. Malone (R-Nev) against the treaties, predicted that "the Saar question will rise up and haunt the signatories of this treaty and in my opinion will be one of the causes of a world war."

Lone Bandit Holds Up Bank

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—A bold young bandit held up a crowded bank at the hub of America's financial world today, and after a stroll with a helpful bank guard, walked calmly away with $7,277.

The fantastic sequence of chance and bravado, which had the overtones of an April fool's farce, came as the Wall Street area was crowded with lunch-hour thousands.

Carrying a canvas bag, the youth entered the busy downtown branch of the Marine Midland Trust Co. Holding one hand in his pocket as if he had a weapon, he shoved a note to a teller.

"Keep calm," the ink-printed note read. "I want money. Put all the money in the bag. Give me five minutes to get out."

Teller Robert Y. Barham nervously crammed the bag full of currency. As the youth walked away with it, Barham began waving the holdup note wildly in the air.

A bank guard, noticing the gesture and thinking a customer had forgotten something, intercepted the robber and politely led him back to the window.

The teller was speechless under the youth's steely gaze. Without batting an eye, the bandit thanked the guard, who turned away. Then with a parting hard look at Teller Barham, the youth again made an unhurried departure.

Shigemitsu Visit Still Is Unofficial

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The State Department said today it has no official word on a visit from Japanese Foreign Minister Shigemitsu to the United States, and Kyodo News Agency said he would leave in three or four days.

A check with the State Department brought word that no official notice had as yet been received. A spokesman said much advance preparations, taking several weeks' time, must go into arrangements for a visit by any foreign official as high ranking as the Japanese foreign minister.

Denounces Resolution

Sitting on the steps to the Capitol, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) talks with newsmen after denouncing in the Senate a move by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) to put Congress on record as opposed to the use of U. S. forces in the defense of the offshore Formosa islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Knowland said resolution "would be deterimental to morale."

Col. M'Cormick, Chicago Tribune Editor, Succumbs

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune who was world renowned as a world fighter for principles, died today.

McCormick, who would have been 75 on July 30 of this year, died at 2:47 a.m. at his Catigny farm in suburban Wheaton from a complication of diseases.

His health had been impaired since he suffered an attack of pneumonia after returning from a European trip in April 1953. He underwent an abdominal operation for adhesions Jan. 19.

He died peacefully in his sleep. His widow, Mrs. Maryland Mathison McCormick; his step-daughter, Mrs. Ann Hooper Warner; and Mrs. Horace Wetmore, a friend and neighbor, were at his bedside. McCormick had no children.

His death brought expressions of sympathy and regret from President Eisenhower, newspaper and news executives, members of Congress and others.

Private funeral services will be held Monday at his home on the Cantigny farm. A memorial service was planned for Tuesday at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago.

McCormick was the key figure in the organization that published two newspapers with a total circulation of more than three million daily and more than five million on Sunday—the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

Besides his Tribune positions his other offices included chairman, vice president and treasurer of the News Syndicate Co., publishers of the Daily News; chairman, vice president and treasurer of the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate Inc., marketing agency for comics and features; and president of WGN, Inc., operator of radio station WGN and television station WGN-TV.

Churches To Welcome Many New Members

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Indications are that more new members will be welcomed into churches during the coming Holy Week than during any previous seven days in American history, a church official said today.

The Rev. Berlyn Farris, executive director of the Evangelism Department of the National Council of Churches, made the prediction on the basis of reports from various denominations.

Rubber Workers Halt Production

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Production in 19 U. S. Rubber Co. plants throughout the nation was halted today as some 35,000 CIO rubber workers struck to back demands for longer vacations and other benefits. Wages are not an issue in the strike.

The walkout stopped production of automobile tires, footwear, chemicals and synthetics. It began last midnight when the old contract expired.

Henry Grunewald Is Given 5-Years Sentence To Prison

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, Washington's fabulous peddler of influence, was sentenced to prison today. He got the maximum five years for tax fixing from a judge who called him a termite in the nation's vitals.

Although he threw himself on the mercy of the court, the 62-year-old Grunewald plans an appeal from the first prison term of his life. He was given freedom on bond to get it started.

In the same tax fix case, Max Halperin, 70-year-old New York lawyer, was entenced to five years and fined $8,000. Sentencing of a third defendant, Daniel A. Bolich, former asst. internal revenue commissioner, was postponed to April 14.

Planetarium Swamped With April Fool Calls

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP) — Invariably on this date the Adler Planetarium is swamped with phone calls for "Mr. Star." It keeps a couple of secretaries busy all day answering the stock reply:

"This is the Adler Planetarium. Today is April 1. Someone has played an April fool's joke on you."

But this year the girls changed all that. Now they say, "Which one do you want; we've got millions of 'em."

They report the dawn comes more slowly for some callers than for others.

Streetcar Workers Resume Their Strike

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, April 1 (AP)— Amsterdam's municipal streetcar workers resumed their wildcat strike today an hour after they returned to work.

Streetcars came out of the barns after Amsterdam's Mayor Arnold J. D'Ailly promised to receive union negotiators if the strikers would start work immediately.

Safety Expert Backs Highway Building Plans

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—A safety expert told Congress today that 3,500 lives a year could be saved by completion of the 40,000-mile interstate system of modern superhighways.

This would be about a tenth of the 36,300 who died in traffic accidents last year.

This testimony was by Carl E. Fritts, vice president in charge of engineering for the Automotive Safety Foundation.

Another witness, Sidney J. Williams, assistant to the president of the National Safety Council, said if traffic volume increases by 50 per cent in the next 10 years, as estimated, "accidents at the present rate will take 55,000 lives a year."

Fritts and Williams testified before a Senate Public Works subcommittee, conducting hearings on proposed highway plans. A proposal by President Eisenhower is aimed at modernizing the 40,000-mile interstate network in 10 years.

Fritts testified that the death rate on modern controlled highways such as Shirley Highway in nearby Virginia, the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the New Jersey Turnpike, and the Merritt Parkway in Connecticut, has been less than half that on parallel roads without controlled access and modern features.

Williams said that safety campaigns of the last three decades had made steady progress in reducing the highway accident rate.

He said the death rate was 18 per hundred million vehicle miles traveled in 1925, but was down to 6.5 in 1954.

Cathedral Stonecutter Falls 80 Feet Off Scaffold, Dies

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The master stonecutter who has carved much of the beauty into the Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral fell to his death today from a scaffold high on the building.

The work he loved so well led to the death of Joseph Ratti who came from Italy many years ago to do carvings in most of the major cities in the United States.

He was 80 feet above ground on a scaffold on the western nave when he apparently slipped through an opening and fell 15 feet to the next level.

James Smith, a carpenter foreman, was on the same scaffold but facing away from the stonecutter. He said he heard Ratti hit the scaffolding below. Police said it was uncertain whether he lost his footing or had a heart attack.

Ratti had just finished carving a gargoyle on an exterior buttress and apparently was moving to the next one.

A church official said it was the first serious accident in the construction of the cathedral which began 48 years ago and still is far from completed.

Ratti, who was 67, had been working on the cathedral for 12 years. A sturdy little man with powerful, calloused hands, he was one of the last artists in a vanishing profession.

As is usually done on such jobs, stone at the cathedral is put into place uncarved. Blueprints show designs roughed in. It was Ratti's job to carve them the way he thought they looked best.

The cathedral architect, Philip H. Frohman, passes on all the stonecarving. Ratti's last work was formally approved a few minutes after he died.

Asks Congress To Buck China Isles Defense

Knowland Denounces Resolution By Demo; Would Defeat Asians

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader fought back tonight against a move by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) to put Congress on record against any American defense of Quemoy and the Matsus, Formosa's island outposts.

Sen. Knowland of California said he thought that if Congress gave serious consideration to Morse's proposal the effect on morale would be so bad that "within two years most of Asia would fall behind the Iron Curtain."

Morse had told the Senate earlier that if the United States fought for the islands it would be taking part in a Chinese civil war which is "none of its business."

Critical Situation

The free world faces a "very critical situation" in the next 90 days, Knowland replied, and the Senate cannot afford to be divided on Far Eastern policy.

He said the Morse proposal, which gathered some support from other Democrats, would "tie the hands" of President Eisenhower and, inadvertently, could well lead to further Communist aggression in Asia. The Chinese Communists have proclaimed their intention of seizing Quemoy and the Matsus.

Morse introduced a resolution to put Congress on record against allowing the U.S. Army, Navy or Air Force to help the Chinese Nationalists hold the islands if they are attacked by the Chinese Reds. Quemoy and the Matsus lie close to the mainland.

This country is pledged to aid in the defense of Formosa, the main Nationalist stronghold, but the Eisenhower administration has not said publicly whether it will resist a Communist assault on the smaller offshore islands.

Opens New Debate

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) opened a new debate on the question today with an assertion that President Eisenhower is adopting a "deadly dangerous" attitude in refusing to say whether the United States will defend Quemoy and the Matsus. McCarthy said the United States should serve notice on the Reds it will defend the islands.

At a White House conference yesterday, McCarthy said, Eisenhower apparently told Senate leaders that American reaction to strikes against the islands would depend on "the nature and strength" of the Red attack.

"I am completely bewildered by the administration's attitude," McCarthy said. "It is deadly dangerous and utterly inexplicable."

Last January Congress passed overwhelmingly a resolution authorizing Eisenhower to fight if necessary for the defense of Formosa.

Specifically, he was authorized to use any measures he considers necessary to safeguard Formosa and the Pescadores Islands and to secure and protect "related positions and territories."

Morse's proposal would amend the January resolution by stating "it shall not be construed to authorize the President to employ any of the armed forces of the United States in military operations concerning the Matsu and Quemoy Islands."

Police Widen Slayer Search

DETROIT, April 1 (AP)—Infuriated police, making no attempt to hide their outrage, plunged into a search today for 7-year-old Barbara Gaca's rapist-killer.

With solid clues to work from, all law enforcement agencies of the big Detroit metropolitan area combined in a vast hunt for an apparently sex-crazed kidnaper.

He was the one who lured brown-eyed little Barbara from her path to school March 24, later to ravish her and choke and stab her to death.

Barbara's body, partly clad, was found in an army blanket in an Oakland County rural area dump yesterday, 25 miles from the girl's home on Detroit's East Side.

The blood-smeared blanket was a major clue. So were automobile tire tracks leading to the dump.

With the discovery of Barbara's slaying came the first actual clues to the eight-day-old disappearance of the postman's daughter. Until a railway section hand found her body there had not been a solitary sign of what happened to her.

West German Truck Drivers Pay New Commie Road Tax

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

BERLIN, April 1 (AP)—West German truckers dug deep into their jeans tonight and paid a stepped-up Communist road tax to keep the highway lifeline open to isolated Berlin. East German border guards appeared confused by the readiness of the truckers to pay.

The new tax with increases ranging from $5 to $50 for a round trip went into effect last midnight.

The West called it political blackmail, and said it was Communist retribution for West German ratification of the Paris agreements.

The East German government claimed that big trucks and trailers were chewing up the roads and that the increased fee was necessary to keep the superhighway in repair.

West Berlin and West German officials termed the move an "economic blockade."

Blockade is an ugly word in Berlin which saw one in 1948-49.

Nobody here is being panicked by the newest Red offensive.

One U.S. official said it was "completely premature" to think in terms of actual blockade.

Reports from the East German border tonight bolstered this view. Truckers reported that border guards themselves seemed to be unsure in applying the new tax.

"Looks like they're doing it on an individual basis," one disgruntled truck driver reported. "A milk truck was charged 90 marks ($21.42). Another truck with an identical load was charged only 20 marks ($4.76). You figure it out. We can't."

There was reason to think the Communist move was ill-conceived and poorly handled.

One Western official said the lower echelons in the East may have been thrown off balance because truckers put up the money so readily.

After an initial slowdown in the early morning hours, trucks began to rumble into Berlin at the normal rate this afternoon and showed no signs of slowing.

Churchill Party Scores Gains In Council Election

LONDON, April 1 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative party scored solid gains today in the nation's County Council elections. The victory heightened speculation that the government might call a general election this spring or summer.

Voting was light, however, and the triennial county contests are never regarded as sure signs of how the voter may be thinking on national issues.

The Conservatives cut deep into the Labor party's 21-year-old grip on London County Council, the the body that runs the biggest city in the world. Final results showed Labor with 74 seats, Conservatives with 52. The lineup formerly was Labor 92, Conservatives 37. A redistribution since the last election reduced the number of seats from 129 to 126.

London's rulers now include 38 women—23 Laborites and 15 Conservatives. Not a single seat went to Communists, Liberals or Independents in the London balloting. Political organizers blamed the London newspaper strike for the small vote. Londoners have had no daily papers since last Friday.

An odd angle was television.

"Door-to-door campaigning was definitely affected," said one party worker. "When we interrupted viewers to talk about elections they were very cross."

West German Truck Drivers Pay New Commie Road Tax

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

BERLIN, April 1 (AP)—West German truckers dug deep into their jeans tonight and paid a stepped-up Communist road tax to keep the highway lifeline open to isolated Berlin. East German border guards appeared confused by the readiness of the truckers to pay.

The new tax with increases ranging from $5 to $50 for a round trip went into effect last midnight.

The West called it political blackmail, and said it was Communist retribution for West German ratification of the Paris agreements.

The East German government claimed that big trucks and trailers were chewing up the roads and that the increased fee was necessary to keep the superhighway in repair.

West Berlin and West German officials termed the move an "economic blockade."

Blockade is an ugly word in Berlin which saw one in 1948-49.

Nobody here is being panicked by the newest Red offensive.

One U.S. official said it was "completely premature" to think in terms of actual blockade.

Reports from the East German border tonight bolstered this view. Truckers reported that border guards themselves seemed to be unsure in applying the new tax.

"Looks like they're doing it on an individual basis," one disgruntled truck driver reported. "A milk truck was charged 90 marks ($21.42). Another truck with an identical load was charged only 20 marks ($4.76). You figure it out. We can't."

There was reason to think the Communist move was ill-conceived and poorly handled.

One Western official said the lower echelons in the East may have been thrown off balance because truckers put up the money so readily.

After an initial slowdown in the early morning hours, trucks began to rumble into Berlin at the normal rate this afternoon and showed no signs of slowing.

Churchill Party Scores Gains In Council Election

LONDON, April 1 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative party scored solid gains today in the nation's County Council elections. The victory heightened speculation that the government might call a general election this spring or summer.

Voting was light, however, and the triennial county contests are never regarded as sure signs of how the voter may be thinking on national issues.

The Conservatives cut deep into the Labor party's 21-year-old grip on London County Council, the body that runs the biggest city in the world. Final results showed Labor with 74 seats, Conservatives with 52. The lineup formerly was Labor 92, Conservatives 37. A redistribution since the last election reduced the number of seats from 129 to 126.

London's rulers now include 38 women—23 Laborites and 15 Conservatives. Not a single seat went to Communists, Liberals or Independents in the London balloting. Political organizers blamed the London newspaper strike for the small vote. Londoners have had no daily papers since last Friday.

An odd angle was television.

"Door-to-door campaigning was definitely affected," said one party worker. "When we interrupted viewers to talk about elections they were very cross."

Jelke Is Found Guilty By Jury

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—A glum, chastened Mickey Jelke appeared ready today to face the penalty for his fling on cafe society's sin for cash circuit.

Jelke faces a maximum 40 years in prison following a jury decision early today that he recruited Pat Ward and Marguerite Cordova as $50 to $100 a date call girls. Actually, he probably will get closer to the three to six years of his previous sentence, which was upset.

Two Men Are Killed In Fall Off Scaffold

BALTIMORE, April 1 (AP)—Two men were killed today when scaffolding from which they were painting a pole collapsed, plunging them 70 feet through the roof of a fertilizer plant in suburban Brooklyn.

The painters, pronounced dead at South Baltimore General Hospital, were identified as Douglas McLellan, 31, of Lansdowne, and Joseph Cermack, 44, of Curtis Bay.

MRS. MOLLIE B. SIRBAUGH

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — Mrs. Mollie B. Sirbaugh, 64, widow of James Sirbaugh, died Thursday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Weatherholt.

She was a daughter of the late Benjamin and Annie (Riggleman) DeLawder.

Also surviving are a stepson, Mitchell Sirbaugh, Cumberland; two sisters, Mrs. Beulah Simmons, Rig; Mrs. Lila Rollins, Ridgeley; three brothers, Benjamin DeLawder, Union Bridge; James DeLawder, here and Albert DeLawder, Rig.

She was a member of the Petersburg Baptist Church. A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Christian Church at Rig with Rev. Robert Withers, local Baptist Church minister, and Rev. Schinzing, officiating.

Burial will be in the Newhouse Cemetery at Rig. The body is at the residence.

Market Rallies With Flurry At Close To Finish Higher

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — The stock market rallied with a flurry today only a short distance from the close.

That enabled stocks to overcome the effects of earlier profit-taking and close at their best levels.

The rise carried prices up 1 to around 3 points with a few reaching upward still more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.20, best rise of the week, and it closed at $160.00, only 30 cents under the top level of the week.

Despite the final buying flurry, volume came to only 2,660,000 shares. That compares with yesterday's 2,680,000 shares.

Baldwin - Lima - Hamilton, which had a strong rise in recent days because of its interest in atomic locomotives, was the most active issue of the day for the seventh straight time. It lost 1⅛ at 21 on 81,100 shares.

International Telephone, whose earnings are holding up well, was second up ¾ at 28½, and it was followed by Avo Mfg. up ⅛ at 7¾, Anaconda Copper up 2⅞ at 61⅝, and Textron up 1⅞ at 16⅝.

Among stocks advancing were Bethlehem Steel up 1⅝, General Motors 1⅜, RCA ⅞, American Telephone ⅛, American Smelting 1⅞, Union Carbide 1, Westinghouse 2¾, General Electric 2, Climax Molybdenum 1⅛, Babcock & Wilcox 4¾, Baltimore & Ohio 1⅛, Gulf Oil 3¼, Deep Rock Oil 2¾, Vertientes - Camaguey Sugar 1¼, Roan Antelope Copper ⅜, Campbell Soup ⅜, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis 5¼, Minneapolis Moline 4, and Childs Co. ⅜.

Spring IS A MIRACLE

Spring is so much more than just a season. It is a miracle, enacted against a backdrop of perfect days. It is the time of rebirth . . . of reaffirmation.

Spring is Christ's story, beautifully illustrated by nature. It is all the teachings of the Church, brought to reality, spread out gloriously for you to see. Nature, in her sweet, new loveliness, touches the world, touches you with the Christ-like spirit. If your vision has been dulled, she gives you the chance to see again more brightly than ever.

Palm Sunday is here again. Never before have the doors of the Church seemed to stand quite so open . . . so ready to receive you. Never has the lesson of everlasting life . . . Christ's lesson . . . been so poignant. There will be new richness in your life if you will trust in the Church. In your soul there can be eternal spring, and all the bleakness, questioning and doubt can be erased from your heart forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Spring IS A MIRACLE

Spring is so much more than just a season. It is a miracle, enacted against a backdrop of perfect days. It is the time of rebirth . . . of reaffirmation.

Spring is Christ's story, beautifully illustrated by nature. It is all the teachings of the Church, brought to reality, spread out gloriously for you to see. Nature, in her sweet, new loveliness, touches the world, touches you with the Christ-like spirit. If your vision has been dulled, she gives you the chance to see again more brightly than ever.

Palm Sunday is here again. Never before have the doors of the Church seemed to stand quite so open . . . so ready to receive you. Never has the lesson of everlasting life . . . Christ's lesson . . . been so poignant. There will be new richness in your life if you will trust in the Church. In your soul there can be eternal spring, and all the bleakness, questioning and doubt can be erased from your heart forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

W. Va. Transportation Co. To Quit Operations Today

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 1 (AP)—The West Virginia Transportation Co. announced tonight it would cease all bus operations over all of its routes effective with the close of business April 2.

An announcement by the company said the action was made necessary by the lack of cash to meet payrolls and bills.

The company said it has made arrangements with certain Greyhound Bus companies to give temporary service over some of the routes served by West Virginia Transportation.

The Public Service Commission announced that it had granted permanent permission to Atlantic Greyhound Corp. to operate on two of the routes formerly covered by the West Virginia line.

The routes are Charleston to Morgantown via Clendenin, Sutton, Clarksburg, Grafton and Morgantown, and Grafton to Wheeling via Parkersburg.

The West Virginia firm stated that its move was approved by the PSC but it had not, as yet, received approval from the Interstate Commerce Commssion.

The firms, which operates some 32 bus runs in the state, stated that "Income has not met and is not meeting expenses. There is no indication that actions within the power of the company to take would be able to rectify this situation."

The company said by acting at this time it hopes there will be sufficient assets to meet its last payroll and take care of its other creditors.

Delegation Will

Commissioners to appoint a county tax collector paid on a salary basis.

The second, SB 586, would authorize the County Commissioners to create a central purchasing bureau and an agent to manage it.

Delegate See said the Delegation was informed that a preliminary report of a committee named to study the problem indicates the money involved does not warrant a purchasing agent, and that amending the act by making it enabling legislation will allow the board to take advantage of a full report promised in the near future.

Bills enacted by the delegates Thursday include:

Senate Bill 591—Requiring that all fees received by the tax colector for issuing auto license tags be turned over to the county's general fund.

In other legislative action, the House passed House Bill 851 sponsored by the Garrett Delegation which would authorize the Garrett County Commissioners to levy a tobacco tax for increasing teacher salaries and construction of schools.

The Senate enacted House Bill 827 authorized sponsored by Del. J. J. Ashby of Garrett County which would authorize certain organizations to conduct bingo games in Garrett County.

The Senate passed Senate Bill 582 sponsored by Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County which would authorize a referendum on the establishment of a liquor dispensary system in Garrett County.

The Governor yesterday signed House Bill 351, sponsored by Delegate Reed, to allow the use of fire halls as voting registration and polling places in this county.

City Taxi Fare Cut To 50 Cents

Taxicab fares within the city limits were reduced to 50 cents yesterday.

The reduced rate went into effect after major companies followed the lead of owners of independent cabs, who announced plans Thursday night for the 10-cent reduction.

The independents also said they would haul passengers to the business section for 25 cents when they were flagged while "deadheading" back to their stands.

Minimum fares within the city have been 60 cents since 1952.

Information Charges Young Man With Arson

A criminal information charging Carl W. Barncord, 21, of Cash Valley Road, with arson in setting fire to his parents' home, has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Coupled with the information was Barncord's petition for an immediate trial and his waiver of his right to trial by jury after indictment by grand jury. The home of William and Elsie Barncord was damaged extensively the night of February 15.

Enlist In Army

Four area men enlisted in the United States Army at the local recruiting station.

Martin W. Courtney, Potomac Park, enlisted in the Engineer Corps; Richard W. Hesse, Maysville, W. Va., enrolled for Army Ordnance; Earl J. Kennell, Mt. Savage, enlisted in the Infantry; and Phillip F. Lease, 416 North Mechanic Street, a veteran, re-enlisted, choosing the Engineers.

Escapee Sought

Maryland and West Virginia State Police are continuing a search for two penitentiary trusties who escaped from a work detail at the Hopemont Tuberculosis Sanitarium last Wednesday.

Authorities identified them as Robert Francis Skidmore, 23, of Berkeley County, sentenced to the penitentiary at Huttonsville, W. Va., for armed robbery, and Ray Jones Jr., 21, of Kanawha County, for breaking and entering.

Addition Is Planned

The Bennett Transfer and Storage Company has secured a permit from the city to build an addition to its premises at Franklin Street and Henderson Avenue.

The permit calls for the construction of a 50 by 85 foot concrete block building to enclose the space between two existing buildings, and will be used for storage. Cost of the one-story addition was estimated at $4,000.

Senate Bill 591—Requiring that all fees received by the tax collector for issuing auto license tags be turned over to the county's general fund.

In other legislative action, the House passed House Bill 851 sponsored by the Garrett Delegation which would authorize the Garrett County Commissioners to levy a tobacco tax for increasing teacher salaries and construction of schools.

The Senate enacted House Bill 827 authorized sponsored by Del. J. J. Ashby of Garrett County which would authorize certain organizations to conduct bingo games in Garrett County.

The Senate passed Senate Bill 582 sponsored by Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County which would authorize a referendum on the establishment of a liquor dispensary system in Garrett County.

The Governor yesterday signed House Bill 351, sponsored by Delegate Reed, to allow the use of fire halls as voting registration and polling places in this county.

City Taxi Fare Cut To 50 Cents

Taxicab fares within the city limits were reduced to 50 cents yesterday.

The reduced rate went into effect after major companies followed the lead of owners of independent cabs, who announced plans Thursday night for the 10-cent reduction.

The independents also said they would haul passengers to the business section for 25 cents when they were flagged while "deadheading" back to their stands.

Minimum fares within the city have been 60 cents since 1952.

Information Charges Young Man With Arson

A criminal information charging Carl W. Barncord, 21, of Cash Valley Road, with arson in setting fire to his parents' home, has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Coupled with the information was Barncord's petition for an immediate trial and his waiver of his right to trial by jury after indictment by grand jury. The home of William and Elsie Barncord was damaged extensively the night of February 15.

Enlist In Army

Four area men enlisted in the United States Army at the local recruiting station.

Escapee Sought

Maryland and West Virginia State Police are continuing a search for two penitentiary trusties who escaped from a work detail at the Hopemont Tuberculosis Sanitarium last Wednesday.

Authorities identified them as Robert Francis Skidmore, 23, of Berkeley County, sentenced to the penitentiary at Huttonsville, W. Va., for armed robbery, and Ray Jones Jr., 21, of Kanawha County, for breaking and entering.

Addition Is Planned

The Bennett Transfer and Storage Company has secured a permit from the city to build an addition to its premises at Franklin Street and Henderson Avenue.

The permit calls for the construction of a 50 by 85 foot concrete block building to enclose the space between two existing buildings, and will be used for storage. Cost of the one-story addition was estimated at $4,000.

Much To Learn At Colder Pole

The South Pole is the coldest place on earth, though nobody knows for sure how low the temperature can get there. It cannot be determined with thermometers using mercury, which becomes a solid metal at 40 below, or even alcohol, which is frozen solid at 80 below. The upper air over the high Antarctic continent, measured by non-liquid thermometers, is sometimes colder than 120 below. But nobody knows just how cold it can get on the surface, because nobody has ever spent a winter there and lived to tell the tale.

An American group is going to try, though, in the dark Antarctic winter which starts next June. A research station is to be set up on the polar plateau, two miles above sea level and 800 miles inland. The group will study cosmic radiation, the southern lights, the thickness of the ice cap, the weather 20 miles up, and various atmospheric conditions.

Conditions will be brutal and unpredictable. Some scientists believe that the stratosphere, with its layer of poisonous ozone, settles on to the plateau in winter. Nobody knows whether the open air may become so cold that man cannot breathe it. Mechanical devices may not work. Metals and plastics may become so brittle with cold that a light fall may break them. Human metabolism, protected by all the ingenious cold-weather improvements worked out by the armed forces since World War II, may still be unable to carry the load.

There is much blithe talk these days about space stations, trips to the moon and the planets, and so forth. Conditions at the earth's colder pole are considerably milder than they would be in outer space. At the South Pole there is normal gravity; there is an unlimited supply of air; there are higher temperatures than on the cold side of the moon, or on Jupiter, for instance; there is protection against meteors and lethal solar radiation.

If Captain Corey of the Space Patrol couldn't survive at the South Pole, he's only a fictional fake.

These Days

The Problem Of War

The various stories that have recently appeared on the subject of our war with Red China have reached their ultimate in setting the date of April 15 as the moment of the strike. Nobody can know for sure when the Red Chinese will try to take Matsu or Quemoy or, for that matter, Formosa. That they are impelled by their current imperialism to challenge the United States is beyond doubt because they must establish in Asian eyes that they are equal to if not greater than the United States or any other Western power.

Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, once defined the Red Chinese in these terms:

". . . We are confronted in Peiping with an arrogant, contemptuous regime of hard-core international Communists who have played a gangster role in their relations with us and other countries . . ."

Unfortunately, harsh words do not win wars. And Mr. Robertson's superiors are not altogether sure that they want to win this war or even to engage in it. They are thinking of another conference, another Yalta perhaps, at which some deal can be engineered which will help 1955 pass without a war. They believe that the longer no general war occurs, the less chance there is of such a war ever occurring. They believe that a statistical superiority in arms may save the world.

It is difficult to argue over such questions because no one can know the correct answers. Surely the wars in which the United States has engaged since 1917 have not produced a victory in the sense that what we are told we fought for has been achieved. World War I was to have made the world safe for a concept roughly described as democracy. What was really meant was representative government, government by the choice of the people.

World War II was in reality an extension of World War I. It started over Poland. The Hitler-Stalin Alliance, with a division of the world between Germany and Russia in accordance with the Ribbentrop-Molotov pact, generated a warlike atmosphere even though the treaties were secret. This was forgotten and for it was substituted the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms. They were forgotten when Soviet Russia and the United States became allies. In their place came "The Grand Design," a theory that by compassionate conduct, the generous gifts, by appeasements, by giving to the Russian additional souls, Stalin would cease to be a brutal Marxist and become a good Christian instead. This is the period of Teheran and Yalta; at these conferences the United States made the greatest historic errors in all its story. It became enmeshed in a permanent war.

Yalta might not have been such a severe blow to our country were it not that, in 1946, General George Marshall was sent to China to effect a compromise and coalition between the Marxists and the Nationalists, between Mao Tze-tung and Chiang Kai-shek, as though they were Republicans and Democrats. By the use of the device of the "long truce," the Chinese Communists, assisted by the Russians, armed by the remains of the munitions of the Japanese Kwantung army, took control of China after the United States effectively disarmed the Nationalists.

To this record must be added the facts that while Germany had been the enemy and Russia the ally, now West Germany is the ally and Russia is the enemy. Also, France has become a second-rate power; some 20 nations that once were free have become absorbed in the Soviet Universal State which now controls 900,000,000 people instead of 180,000,000.

All of this raises the question of why we lose out, what is wrong in our calculations? Apparently we know how to manufacture whatever is needed in war and our men are brave and can fight. But when it comes to conferences, we do not know how to negotiate because we do not know exactly what we want. We failed at Quebec, at Teheran, at Yalta, at Potsdam, at various Moscow, London and Paris conferences, at Panmunjom, at Geneva and wherever we sit down to talk things over.

Our adversaries enter the conference hall with a fixed program from which they do not budge; we come with good-will and friendliness and the hope that dollars will win peace. They have not accomplished much thus far.

Can They Sell That Propaganda Line?

Press Speculation About War May Keep U. S. Alert

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Just a little more than 13 years ago a high official of the United States government held a "background" conference with a number of Washington newsmen. He told them diplomatic negotiations with Japan had virtually ended, that the next step was anybody's guess and that it looked to him like war. Ten days later came the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Now what was the duty of the American press and particularly of the high official in those 10 days? He was the undersecretary of state, Sumner Welles, who was known to be in the inner councils of the President. He was not then to be quoted or identified as the source.

Complacency Psychology

Supposing the rule which President Eisenhower announced to his press conference this week had been in effect as an order from the government — that officials should not speculate even in private talks with the press about the possibility of war. The blame for failing to ward off the Pearl Harbor attack would have been clearly on the Washington government because of its effort to keep significant news developments from the people.

As it was, despite the fact that some news articles reflected what Mr. Welles had said, a lot of wishful thinking was being done those days by everybody, including some high military officials who were so convinced that Japan would not attack that they didn't even take the trouble to order the American fleet to leave Pearl Harbor and never sent a mobilization order to cause the Navy to go on a war basis.

The psychology everywhere else in Washington, aside from the news conference with Mr. Welles, was one of complacency. This attitude cost the lives of 3,000 American boys at Pearl Harbor—mostly in the U.S. Navy.

Admiral Carney, chief of naval operations, told a group of newsmen and broadcasters at a private dinner here a week or so ago some facts about the way the Communist Chinese are developing their military buildup for a possible attack on Matsu and the Quemoy islands. The understanding was that he was not to be quoted. In accordance with custom and tradition, he was merely giving the newsmen a briefing on the capabilities of the Communist Chinese.

Singled Out As Goat

But today Admiral Carney is being singled out as the goat. The President tells a press conference that he deplores speculation on the possibility that war might break out in mid-April or at any other time in the Far East. The secretary of defense is clamping down on all talks by military men to the newsmen on current problems.

A blackout of news from military sources would be a dangerous thing for the American people. Yet Mr. Eisenhower, apparently influenced by a political opposition in Congress, is taking the position that there should not be any speculation about the possibility of any warfare in the Far East. Had there been more speculation in December 1941, General Marshall, intimate friend of Mr. Eisenhower and chief of staff of the Army at the time, might himself have been alerted to the possibilities of war and might not have been out horseback riding at a crucial time, and might not have permitted a vital message to Pearl Harbor to go by the slower method of telegraph when a telephone was available.

The government was asleep largely because the press was not more alert in December 1941. There wasn't enough speculation about the possibility of war. There was too much soft-pedalling then.

Any theory that wars can be prevented and the enemy lulled into inaction by failure to print the news of what the enemy may be doing—or what we know he is doing in the way of a buildup—could be very dangerous to American boys in the Far East. Admiral Carney is very directly concerned, as it will be his sailors and airmen who will bear the brunt of any attack if one comes.

Could Produce Alertness

Just what has been the effect thus far of the speculative stories about war? A few editorials have been written in influential newspapers advocating retreat—that the offshore islands be given up and that America announce her intention not to defend them. Conversely, in Congress Senator Kefauver has accused the administration of containing a group of advisers who are "plotting and planning to bring such a war about whatever the risks."

Publication of the speculative stories could produce alertness and prevent another Pearl Harbor. It is understandable why American military intentions should be withheld from publication, but it is incomprehensible why facts about the Communist buildup and possible intentions should be suppressed or a ban put on speculation about them.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Have you gandered the congressional registering on international, domestic and interplanetary problems?

A microscopic survey of wall maps, blueprints and cuff margins indicates that politics stop at the water's edge. If it's land's end.

Proof of the political pudding is Republicans vote as Republicans. In my old town that would mean twice.

Democrats vote strictly along party lines on every question from fish-ladders to monogramed match-boxes for arsonists.

Right now affairs are sharper than wolf grins because of 1956. The Democrats have no more talking point than a hermit with a rusty phonograph needle.

What the Democrats need is a slogan to hang their hats on. It doesn't have to mean anymore than "Keep Kool with Kal." Or "The Bottomless Dinner Pail."

Roads, power and foreign policies are up for refills this session. Why not a banner with the slogan, "Who bent the clover-leafs?"

It doesn't mean anything but that's the value of it. Just like the question, "When did you stop beating your wife?" It's unanswerable.

Or picket the lines of least resistance with the placard, "Why don't fish perspire?"

Do you know that William Chinnings Bryan ran for president three times on the slogan, "Sixteen to One?" To this day they don't know Sixteen what.

Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt Comes To Defense Of Gasoline Stations

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt of California uncovered shocking evidence this week of how gasoline stations are being manhandled by monopoly.

Roosevelt's Small Business Subcommittee probing the oil industry heard witness after witness testify about the ruthless trade practices of the big oil companies in forcing their products on gas stations. Result: one-third of the 200,000 operators who lease stations from the oil companies sell out each year.

Mrs. Ethel B. Powell told how she and her husband lost not only their filling station, leased from Sinclair Oil, but their savings and home in Fitzgerald, Ga. Describing the "pressure" of Sinclair agents, she testified:

"They did not want us to sell candy, cigarets, or chewing gum. The only drinks we could sell were Coca-Cola. They did not want us to handle oil from any other company, even though there was very little of this, just for special customers who would not use the Sinclair oil but did use Sinclair gas."

The Powells were also pressured to get rid of all tires and tubes which Sinclair did not sponsor.

"We were selling more Sinclair gas and oil than had ever been sold at that station before or since," testified Mrs. Powell. "We tripled the stock and equipment of the station and raised the number of employes from one to three."

Nonetheless, Sinclair canceled the Powells' lease last January 31. The Powells had to sell out and leave town.

Standard Oil Crackdown

Another gas dealer, Ed Horton, of Manchester, Ga., gave the subcommittee a graphic account of how he was "canceled out" by Standard Oil of Kentucky in January 1953. Reading from notes, Horton testified that the following conversation had taken place with Paul Ross, a Standard Oil agent, on October 23, 1952.

Agent Ross—"The last time I was here you promised me you weren't going to buy that Henderson tire changer, and when I come back I find the Henderson changer installed and in use and your display case full of Prestone antifreeze."

Horton — "Well, what's wrong with all that?"

Agent Ross — "It just doesn't go. Howell (another Standard Oil of Kentucky agent) came by here and saw all that Prestone in the window and he politely cussed me out about it. Ed, if you're tired of it and dissatisfied with this station, why don't you just check out and get it over with?"

Horton — "I'm not dissatisfied. I'm just damn tired of somebody telling me what I can buy and what I can't buy and making unjust criticisms."

Ross — "You've got to move that Preston out of the window."

Horton — "What I buy is my business."

Ross—"Oh, no, it isn't."

Horton — "Do you mean to tell me that I'm paying $175 plus one-eighth of one cent a gallon a month rent, and what I buy isn't my business?"

Ross—"That's right."

No! No Prestone!

During a later visit, Horton testified that Standard Oil Agent Ross again badgered him about using Prestone. Here is the testimony:

Agent Ross — "I've done all I know to do for you. I've helped you in every way that I possibly can to get you the things that you asked for, and I was about to suggest that your station needed a coat of paint—so, let's get your boy to move that Prestone in the back room."

Horton—"Do you mean to say that I can't sell Prestone or even display it?"

Ross — "No I can't tell you that you can't sell it; we aren't supposed to tell you what you can or can't sell, but if you don't cooperate with us, things can be mighty rough for you. So, if you are dissatisfied, I'll be back down here next week and you can give me your answer."

Horton — "What kind of an answer?"

Ross — "As to whether you want to stay here or not. Ed, let's get down to facts. I'm going to give them to you straight. If Mr. Graves or the man out of the Lounsville office were to come by here and see that Prestone in the window, they wouldn't do a thing but go to the Atlanta office and glance at your record and call me and tell me to check you out—that your record was unsatisfactory and that would be all there is to it.

"Well, get it (the Prestone) out of that window this afternoon."

Horton — "In other words, I'm not supposed to buy anything but Standard Oil products. Is that right?"

Ross — "If we were to come right out and tell you that you weren't, we would be violating the Haywood-Patterson Act and it would be against the law. So it's like I told you a few minutes ago; if a man can't cooperate with the company, his record is determined unsatisfactory and he's checked out."

Horton told the subcommittee that Standard used to ship him T. B. A. (tires, batteries and accessories) equipment whether he needed or wanted them. Standard representatives vigorously complained about his purchases, Horton testified, adding:

"They said they had a T.B.A. quota to meet and that they were going to get it one way or another."

There Is Only One Of You

By Brother Barnabas

"Watch your step, there's only one of you." So wrote a friend a few days ago, and the saying stuck.

When you shuffle off this mortal coil there will be nobody to take your place. Somebody will take your job, but you will leave a vacant space against the sky.

The disposition of your property will be a simple matter. You may have something to say about that in your will. After Uncle Sam takes his share, the balance will melt like frost before the morning sun.

In the final showdown, if you had a million dollars it would leave you cold. Every million I have ever cottoned to has given me the cold shoulder. "Cool million" is well named.

Still one can traffic in millions without fear of being "ruined." Every wife can look like a million in the forthcoming Easter parade if her husband is not remiss and has the wherewithal.

Husband Of Year

Even if she doesn't look like an animated fashion plate, she can be glamorous and worth "far more than rubies" (Proverbs 31:10).

Whether a man rises to distinction or not, he can still be the "husband of the year" by one vote, when his wife sweetly declares, "There's only one of you."

You are one, but not the only one. You are not the only pebble on the beach. There are as big fish in the sea as have ever been caught.

What's the use to sit and whine,
'Cause the fish ain't on your line,
Bait your hook and keep a-tryin',
Keep angling.

There's always plenty of room at the top. Keep climbing, and if you lose your job you may have a position. If you have no portfolio in the cabinet, they will make one for you.

"Who was that woman I saw you with the other night?"

"Was she a blonde, or a brunette? Gentlemen prefer blondes."

"She was my better half." A man's wife is not blueprinted like a house, with specifications as to color of eyes, hair, or complexion, or bridge of nose, whether aquiline, roman or pug.

But blind to whether she can ski or cook, he takes her as is, only to discover later that she is the only one.

On the 60th wedding anniversary of a couple I knew a newspaperman asked the venerable gentleman whether if he had his life to live over again he would marry. His reply was, "Yes, if I could marry the same woman."

True In Religion

Who said woman is the "weaker sex"? There is a book in the city library with the title: "The Natural Superiority of Women."

She has two X chromosones, to man's one. That may account for her being twice as active in twice as many areas of human interest as man.

It is certainly true in religion as any pastor can attest.

"In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
You generally find the Christian soldier
Represented by his wife."

Boastful men deprecate petticoat government, and yet they fall for it. Talleyrand, the French diplomat, evaded the issue. Two women vied for his favor. One was bold enough to ask which of the two he would fish out of the water if both fell in at the same time. With a bland smile he replied: "Ah, Madame, you swim so well."

In Cupid's game the woman chooses her partner and calls the plays, but she does it so deftly as not to impeach his masculinity, else their marriage may later fall on the rocks of incompatibility.

Answer By Paradox

If you could choose, when would you rather have been born? In Shakespeare's time? His bust is in Westminster Abbey surrounded by his contemporaries, all dead.

Where have you been all my life? Was I born too soon, or too late? Neither. Not being a fatalist, I can only answer by a paradox.

"For everything there is a season ...there is a time to be born...a time to plant" (Ecclesiastes 3:1-2).

Strawberries don't taste just right in January. May and December do not marry well. "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Palm Sunday and Easter are upon us, with all their hallowed associations, accompanied by the beauty and fragrance of spring flowers and heavenly music. Who knows whether you have come to "royal estate" for such a time as this? This may be your spiritual birthday.

Meditatively yours,
BROTHER BARNABAS

Ingenuity, Companionship Keep Sick Child Happy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is not easy to keep a convalescing child entertained, especially when the disease is a long drawn out affair such as rheumatic fever, polio, or disorders of bone. Because the youngster is confined to bed, he usually has to play alone. If there is no outlet for his excess energy he becomes cross, fidgety, or even cantankerous.

The job of keeping the little one amused is made easier by using ingenuity and spending more time with the tot. Up to the age of 4, concentration is difficult and children tire quickly of one project. Nevertheless, it is not advisable to shower them with toys. One at a time should be given and when interest wanes, substitute another.

Whatever the age, only appropriate play things ought to be selected. Small children like to have balloons tied to the crib or on a cord across the room. They also enjoy playing with spools arranged on a string, blocks with pictures on the sides, toy animals, singing seashells, and colored pegs over which rings can be slipped.

For older groups there are simple puzzles, bead threading, crayons, drawing pads, coloring books, scissors, colored paper, and old magazines for cutouts. Juvenile books and phonograph records give pleasure as well as radio and TV. Little girls can spend hours fussing with their favorite doll and many like to sew, knit, or embroider.

School age children like games such as dominoes, parchesi, checkers, cards, and anagrams. Boys enjoy wood carving and making model airplanes and space ships. Hobbies such as stamp collections come in handy at such a time.

Educational projects are as important as amusement. Many institutions have visiting teachers who not only go over the regular lessons but give training in manual work and the arts. Some part of every day, the parents can play word games, exchange riddles, or read to the youngster.

Father and mother must not spoil the sick child or allow him to indulge in self-pity. Certain neurotic tendencies in later life have been traced to a period of convalescence when the youngster was the center of attraction. When the illness passed, the child missed the spotlight and the net result was a change in personality.

A matter of fact attitude on the part of parents and other relatives will help the boy or girl over this transitional period.

SURGERY IN PREGNANCY

Mrs. S. writes: I needed surgery on my right ovary when I was in the fourth month of pregnancy. My child is now four years old and is extremely nervous. Do you think my operation could be responsible for her nervousness?

REPLY

Ask your physician to determine the cause of the little girl's nervousness.

LESSENING DRYNESS

G. N. writes: How can humidity in the home be raised without expensive equipment?

REPLY

The easiest ways to increase humidity are to put pans of water on the radiators, keep the steam kettle going in the kitchen, or turn on the shower to full hot in the bathroom. If you have an electric hot plate, place a pan of water on it and keep it boiling. There are commercial humidifiers that are not too expensive.

DIET AND PRESSURE

W. P. writes: Is any one food specifically prohibited in high blood pressure?

REPLY

No, except that it is unwise to overindulge in foods that encourage obesity and that have a high salt content.

POLYPS IN THE FAMILY

D. S. writes: What is familial polyposis?

REPLY

A hereditary condition in which polyps develop in the rectum and colon of young persons. Complete removal of the colon and rectum is required.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A famous author, determined to get away from the hurly-burly of the big town, bought a rambling old house in a sleepy New England town. For some weeks he enjoyed absolute seclusion, but then he noticed that kids began to stare at him—merchants too—every time he walked down the main-street. Not too displeased, he told his wife, "Who'd have thought people in a town like this — particularly the children — would hero-worship an author?" His wife said, "I hate to disillusion you, but I'm afraid it's all your young son's doing. He has been boasting to everybody within earshot that you're a bookmaker!"

Milt Kadison, of the New Rochelle Kadisons, blew his top when his wife insisted on taking driving lessons. The first day she was alone at the wheel, he told his friend, he saw her wobbling down

Westchester Avenue. He rushed into the house, double-locked the door, ran up three flights of stairs to his private office, and took refuge under the desk. "It wasn't any use," sighed Kadison. "She got me anyhow."

Much To Learn At Colder Pole

The South Pole is the coldest place on earth, though nobody knows for sure how low the temperature can get there. It cannot be determined with thermometers using mercury, which becomes a solid metal at 40 below, or even alcohol, which is frozen solid at 80 below. The upper air over the high Antarctic continent, measured by non-liquid thermometers, is sometimes colder than 120 below. But nobody knows just how cold it can get on the surface, because nobody has ever spent a winter there and lived to tell the tale.

An American group is going to try, though, in the dark Antarctic winter which starts next June. A research station is to be set up on the polar plateau, two miles above sea level and 800 miles inland. The group will study cosmic radiation, the southern lights, the thickness of the ice cap, the weather 20 miles up, and various atmospheric conditions.

Conditions will be brutal and unpredictable. Some scientists believe that the stratosphere, with its layer of poisonous ozone, settles on to the plateau in winter. Nobody knows whether the open air may become so cold that man cannot breathe it. Mechanical devices may not work. Metals and plastics may become so brittle with cold that a light fall may break them. Human metabolism, protected by all the ingenious cold-weather improvements worked out by the armed forces since World War II, may still be unable to carry the load.

There is much blithe talk these days about space stations, trips to the moon and the planets, and so forth. Conditions at the earth's colder pole are considerably milder than they would be in outer space. At the South Pole there is normal gravity; there is an unlimited supply of air; there are higher temperatures than on the cold side of the moon, or on Jupiter, for instance; there is protection against meteors and lethal solar radiation.

If Captain Corey of the Space Patrol couldn't survive at the South Pole, he's only a fictional fake.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Problem Of War

The various stories that have recently appeared on the subject of our war with Red China have reached their ultimate in setting the date of April 15 as the moment of the strike. Nobody can know for sure when the Red Chinese will try to take Matsu or Quemoy or, for that matter, Formosa. That they are impelled by their current imperialism to challenge the United States is beyond doubt because they must establish in Asian eyes that they are equal to if not greater than the United States or any other Western power.

Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, once defined the Red Chinese in these terms:

". . . We are confronted in Peiping with an arrogant, contemptuous regime of hard-core international Communists who have played a gangster role in their relations with us and other countries . . ."

Unfortunately, harsh words do not win wars. And Mr. Robertson's superiors are not altogether sure that they want to win this war or even to engage in it. They are thinking of another conference, another Yalta perhaps, at which some deal can be engineered which will help 1955 pass without a war. They believe that the longer no general war occurs, the less chance there is of such a war ever occurring. They believe that a statistical superiority in arms may save the world.

It is difficult to argue over such questions because no one can know the correct answers. Surely the wars in which the United States has engaged since 1917 have not produced a victory in the sense that what we are told we fought for has been achieved. World War I was to have made the world safe for a concept roughly described as democracy. What was really meant was representative government, government by the choice of the people.

World War II was in reality an extension of World War I. It started over Poland. The Hitler-Stalin Alliance, with a division of the world between Germany and Russia in accordance with the Ribbentrop-Molotov pact, generated a warlike atmosphere even though the treaties were secret. This was forgotten and for it was substituted the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms. They were forgotten when Soviet Russia and the United States became allies. In their place came "The Grand Design," a theory that by compassionate conduct, the generous gifts, by appeasements, by giving to the Russian additional souls, Stalin would cease to be a brutal Marxist and become a good Christian instead. This is the period of Teheran and Yalta; at these conferences the United States made the greatest historic errors in all its story. It became enmeshed in a permanent war.

Yalta might not have been such a severe blow to our country were it not that, in 1946, General George Marshall was sent to China to effect a compromise and coalition between the Marxists and the Nationalists, between Mao Tze-tung and Chiang Kai-shek, as though they were Republicans and Democrats. By the use of the device of the "long truce," the Chinese Communists, assisted by the Russians, armed by the remains of the munitions of the Japanese Kwantung army, took control of China after the United States effectively disarmed the Nationalists.

To this record must be added the facts that while Germany had been the enemy and Russia the ally, now West Germany is the ally and Russia is the enemy. Also, France has become a second-rate power; some 20 nations that once were free have become absorbed in the Soviet Universal State which now controls 900,000,000 people instead of 180,000,000.

All of this raises the question of why we lose out, what is wrong in our calculations? Apparently we know how to manufacture whatever is needed in war and our men are brave and can fight. But when it comes to conferences, we do not know how to negotiate because we do not know exactly what we want. We failed at Quebec, at Teheran, at Yalta, at Potsdam, at various Moscow, London and Paris conferences, at Panmunjom, at Geneva and wherever we sit down to talk things over.

Our adversaries enter the conference hall with a fixed program from which they do not budge; we come with good-will and friendliness and the hope that dollars will win peace. They have not accomplished much thus far.

Can They Sell That Propaganda Line?

Press Speculation About War May Keep U. S. Alert

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Just a little more than 13 years ago a high official of the United States government held a "background" conference with a number of Washington newsmen. He told them diplomatic negotiations with Japan had virtually ended, that the next step was anybody's guess and that it looked to him like war. Ten days later came the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Now what was the duty of the American press and particularly of the high official in those 10 days? He was the undersecretary of state, Sumner Welles, who was known to be in the inner councils of the President. He was not then to be quoted or identified as the source.

Complacency Psychology

Supposing the rule which President Eisenhower announced to his press conference this week had been in effect as an order from the government — that officials should not speculate even in private talks with the press about the possibility of war. The blame for failing to ward off the Pearl Harbor attack would have been clearly on the Washington government because of its effort to keep significant news developments from the people.

As it was, despite the fact that some news articles reflected what Mr. Welles had said, a lot of wishful thinking was being done those days by everybody, including some high military officials who were so convinced that Japan would not attack that they didn't even take the trouble to order the American fleet to leave Pearl Harbor and never sent a mobilization order to cause the Navy to go on a war basis.

The psychology everywhere else in Washington, aside from the news conference with Mr. Welles, was one of complacency. This attitude cost the lives of 3,000 American boys at Pearl Harbor—mostly in the U.S. Navy.

Admiral Carney, chief of naval operations, told a group of newsmen and broadcasters at a private dinner here a week or so ago some facts about the way the Communist Chinese are developing their military buildup for a possible attack on Matsu and the Quemoy islands. The understanding was that he was not to be quoted. In accordance with custom and tradition, he was merely giving the newsmen a briefing on the capabilities of the Communist Chinese.

Singled Out As Goat

But today Admiral Carney is being singled out as the goat. The President tells a press conference that he deplores speculation on the possibility that war might break out in mid-April or at any other time in the Far East. The secretary of defense is clamping down on all talks by military men to the newsmen on current problems.

A blackout of news from military sources would be a dangerous thing for the American people. Yet Mr. Eisenhower, apparently influenced by a political opposition in Congress, is taking the position that there should not be any speculation about the possibility of any warfare in the Far East. Had there been more speculation in December 1941, General Marshall, intimate friend of Mr. Eisenhower and chief of staff of the Army at the time, might himself have been alerted to the possibilities of war and might not have been out horseback riding at a crucial time, and might not have permitted a vital message to Pearl Harbor to go by the slower method of telegraph when a telephone was available.

The government was asleep largely because the press was not more alert in December 1941. There wasn't enough speculation about the possibility of war. There was too much soft-pedalling then.

Any theory that wars can be prevented and the enemy lulled into inaction by failure to print the news of what the enemy may be doing—or what we know he is doing in the way of a buildup—could be very dangerous to American boys in the Far East. Admiral Carney is very directly concerned, as it will be his sailors and airmen who will bear the brunt of any attack if one comes.

Could Produce Alertness

Just what has been the effect thus far of the speculative stories about war? A few editorials have been written in influential newspapers advocating retreat—that the offshore islands be given up and that America announce her intention not to defend them. Conversely, in Congress Senator Kefauver has accused the administration of containing a group of advisers who are "plotting and planning to bring such a war about whatever the risks."

Publication of the speculative stories could produce alertness and prevent another Pearl Harbor. It is understandable why American military intentions should be withheld from publication, but it is incomprehensible why facts about the Communist buildup and possible intentions should be suppressed or a ban put on speculation about them.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Have you gandered the congressional registering on international, domestic and interplanetary problems?

A microscopic survey of wall maps, blueprints and cuff margins indicates that politics stop at the water's edge. If it's land's end.

Proof of the political pudding is Republicans vote as Republicans. In my old town that would mean twice.

Democrats vote strictly along party lines on every question from fish-ladders to monogramed match-boxes for arsonists.

Right now affairs are sharper than wolf grins because of 1956. The Democrats have no more talking point than a hermit with a rusty phonograph needle.

What the Democrats need is a slogan to hang their hats on. It doesn't have to mean anymore than "Keep Kool with Kal." Or "The Bottomless Dinner Pail."

Roads, power and foreign policies are up for refills this session. Why not a banner with the slogan, "Who bent the clover-leafs?"

It doesn't mean anything but that's the value of it. Just like the question, "When did you stop beating your wife?" It's unanswerable.

Or picket the lines of least resistance with the placard, "Why don't fish perspire?"

Do you know that William Chinnings Bryan ran for president three times on the slogan, "Sixteen to One?" To this day they don't know Sixteen what.

Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt Comes To Defense Of Gasoline Stations

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt of California uncovered shocking evidence this week of how gasoline stations are being manhandled by monopoly.

Roosevelt's Small Business Subcommittee probing the oil industry heard witness after witness testify about the ruthless trade practices of the big oil companies in forcing their products on gas stations. Result: one-third of the 200,000 operators who lease stations from the oil companies sell out each year.

Mrs. Ethel B. Powell told how she and her husband lost not only their filling station, leased from Sinclair Oil, but their savings and home in Fitzgerald, Ga. Describing the "pressure" of Sinclair agents, she testified:

"They did not want us to sell candy, cigarets, or chewing gum. The only drinks we could sell were Coca-Cola. They did not want us to handle oil from any other company, even though there was very little of this, just for special customers who would not use the Sinclair oil but did use Sinclair gas."

The Powells were also pressured to get rid of all tires and tubes which Sinclair did not sponsor.

"We were selling more Sinclair gas and oil than had ever been sold at that station before or since," testified Mrs. Powell. "We tripled the stock and equipment of the station and raised the number of employes from one to three."

Nonetheless, Sinclair canceled the Powells' lease last January 31. The Powells had to sell out and leave town.

Standard Oil Crackdown

Another gas dealer, Ed Horton, of Manchester, Ga., gave the subcommittee a graphic account of how he was "canceled out" by Standard Oil of Kentucky in January 1953. Reading from notes, Horton testified that the following conversation had taken place with Paul Ross, a Standard Oil agent, on October 23, 1952.

Agent Ross—"The last time I was here you promised me you weren't going to buy that Henderson tire changer, and when I come back I find the Henderson changer installed and in use and your display case full of Prestone antifreeze."

Horton — "Well, what's wrong with all that?"

Agent Ross — "It just doesn't go. Howell (another Standard Oil of Kentucky agent) came by here and saw all that Prestone in the window and he politely cussed me out about it. Ed, if you're tired of it and dissatisfied with this station, why don't you just check out and get it over with?"

Horton — "I'm not dissatisfied. I'm just damn tired of somebody telling me what I can buy and what I can't buy and making unjust criticisms."

Ross — "You've got to move that Preston out of the window."

Horton — "What I buy is my business."

Ross—"Oh, no, it isn't."

Horton — "Do you mean to tell me that I'm paying $175 plus one-eighth of one cent a gallon a month rent, and what I buy isn't my business?"

Ross—"That's right."

No! No Prestone!

During a later visit, Horton testified that Standard Oil Agent Ross again badgered him about using Prestone. Here is the testimony:

Agent Ross — "I've done all I know to do for you. I've helped you in every way that I possibly can to get you the things that you asked for, and I was about to suggest that your station needed a coat of paint—so, let's get your boy to move that Prestone in the back room."

Horton—"Do you mean to say that I can't sell Prestone or even display it?"

Ross — "No I can't tell you that you can't sell it; we aren't supposed to tell you what you can or can't sell, but if you don't cooperate with us, things can be mighty rough for you. So, if you are dissatisfied, I'll be back down here next week and you can give me your answer."

Horton — "What kind of an answer?"

Ross — "As to whether you want to stay here or not. Ed, let's get down to facts. I'm going to give them to you straight. If Mr. Graves or the man out of the Lounsville office were to come by here and see that Prestone in the window, they wouldn't do a thing but go to the Atlanta office and glance at your record and call me and tell me to check you out—that your record was unsatisfactory and that would be all there is to it.

"Well, get it (the Prestone) out of that window this afternoon."

Horton — "In other words, I'm not supposed to buy anything but Standard Oil products. Is that right?"

Ross — "If we were to come right out and tell you that you weren't, we would be violating the Haywood-Patterson Act and it would be against the law. So it's like I told you a few minutes ago; if a man can't cooperate with the company, his record is determined unsatisfactory and he's checked out."

Horton told the subcommittee that Standard used to ship him T. B. A. (tires, batteries and accessories) equipment whether he needed or wanted them. Standard representatives vigorously complained about his purchases, Horton testified, adding:

"They said they had a T.B.A. quota to meet and that they were going to get it one way or another."

There Is Only One Of You

By Brother Barnabas

"Watch your step, there's only one of you." So wrote a friend a few days ago, and the saying stuck.

When you shuffle off this mortal coil there will be nobody to take your place. Somebody will take your job, but you will leave a vacant space against the sky.

The disposition of your property will be a simple matter. You may have something to say about that in your will. After Uncle Sam takes his share, the balance will melt like frost before the morning sun.

In the final showdown, if you had a million dollars it would leave you cold. Every million I have ever cottoned to has given me the cold shoulder. "Cool million" is well named.

Still one can traffic in millions without fear of being "ruined." Every wife can look like a million in the forthcoming Easter parade if her husband is not remiss and has the wherewithal.

Husband Of Year

Even if she doesn't look like an animated fashion plate, she can be glamorous and worth "far more than rubies" (Proverbs 31:10).

Whether a man rises to distinction or not, he can still be the "husband of the year" by one vote, when his wife sweetly declares, "There's only one of you."

You are one, but not the only one. You are not the only pebble on the beach. There are as big fish in the sea as have ever been caught.

What's the use to sit and whine,
'Cause the fish ain't on your line,
Bait your hook and keep a-tryin',
Keep angling.

There's always plenty of room at the top. Keep climbing, and if you lose your job you may have a position. If you have no portfolio in the cabinet, they will make one for you.

"Who was that woman I saw you with the other night?"

"Was she a blonde, or a brunette? Gentlemen prefer blondes."

"She was my better half." A man's wife is not blueprinted like a house, with specifications as to color of eyes, hair, or complexion, or bridge of nose, whether aquiline, roman or pug.

But blind to whether she can ski or cook, he takes her as is, only to discover later that she is the only one.

On the 60th wedding anniversary of a couple I knew a newspaperman asked the venerable gentleman whether if he had his life to live over again he would marry. His reply was, "Yes, if I could marry the same woman."

True In Religion

Who said woman is the "weaker sex"? There is a book in the city library with the title: "The Natural Superiority of Women."

She has two X chromosones, to man's one. That may account for her being twice as active in twice as many areas of human interest as man.

It is certainly true in religion as any pastor can attest.

"In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
You generally find the Christian soldier
Represented by his wife."

Boastful men deprecate petticoat government, and yet they fall for it. Talleyrand, the French diplomat, evaded the issue. Two women vied for his favor. One was bold enough to ask which of the two he would fish out of the water if both fell in at the same time. With a bland smile he replied: "Ah, Madame, you swim so well."

In Cupid's game the woman chooses her partner and calls the plays, but she does it so deftly as not to impeach his masculinity, else their marriage may later fall on the rocks of incompatibility.

Answer By Paradox

If you could choose, when would you rather have been born? In Shakespeare's time? His bust is in Westminster Abbey surrounded by his contemporaries, all dead.

Where have you been all my life? Was I born too soon, or too late? Neither. Not being a fatalist, I can only answer by a paradox.

"For everything there is a season ...there is a time to be born.. a time to plant" (Ecclesiastes 3:1-2).

Strawberries don't taste just right in January. May and December do not marry well. "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Palm Sunday and Easter are upon us, with all their hallowed associations, accompanied by the beauty and fragrance of spring flowers and heavenly music. Who knows whether you have come to "royal estate" for such a time as this? This may be your spiritual birthday.

Meditatively yours,

Ingenuity, Companionship Keep Sick Child Happy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is not easy to keep a convalescing child entertained, especially when the disease is a long drawn out affair such as rheumatic fever, polio, or disorders of bone. Because the youngster is confined to bed, he usually has to play alone. If there is no outlet for his excess energy he becomes cross, fidgety, or even cantankerous.

The job of keeping the little one amused is made easier by using ingenuity and spending more time with the tot. Up to the age of 4, concentration is difficult and children tire quickly of one project. Nevertheless, it is not advisable to shower them with toys. One at a time should be given and when interest wanes, substitute another.

Whatever the age, only appropriate play things ought to be selected. Small children like to have balloons tied to the crib or on a cord across the room. They also enjoy playing with spools arranged on a string, blocks with pictures on the sides, toy animals, singing seashells, and colored pegs over which rings can be slipped.

For older groups there are simple puzzles, bead threading, crayons, drawing pads, coloring books, scissors, colored paper, and old magazines for cutouts. Juvenile books and phonograph records give pleasure as well as radio and TV. Little girls can spend hours fussing with their favorite doll and many like to sew, knit, or embroider.

School age children like games such as dominoes, parchesi, checkers, cards, and anagrams. Boys enjoy wood carving and making model airplanes and space ships. Hobbies such as stamp collections come in handy at such a time.

Educational projects are as important as amusement. Many institutions have visiting teachers who not only go over the regular lessons but give training in manual work and the arts. Some part of every day, the parents can play word games, exchange riddles, or read to the youngster.

Father and mother must not spoil the sick child or allow him to indulge in self-pity. Certain neurotic tendencies in later life have been traced to a period of convalescence when the youngster was the center of attraction. When the illness passed, the child missed the spotlight and the net result was a change in personality.

A matter of fact attitude on the part of parents and other relatives will help the boy or girl over this transitional period.

SURGERY IN PREGNANCY

Mrs. S. writes: I needed surgery on my right ovary when I was in the fourth month of pregnancy. My child is now four years old and is extremely nervous. Do you think my operation could be responsible for her nervousness?

REPLY

Ask your physician to determine the cause of the little girl's nervousness.

LESSENING DRYNESS

G. N. writes: How can humidity in the home be raised without expensive equipment?

REPLY

The easiest ways to increase humidity are to put pans of water on the radiators, keep the steam kettle going in the kitchen, or turn on the shower to full hot in the bathroom. If you have an electric hot plate, place a pan of water on it and keep it boiling. There are commercial humidifiers that are not too expensive.

DIET AND PRESSURE

W. P. writes: Is any one food specifically prohibited in high blood pressure?

REPLY

No, except that it is unwise to overindulge in foods that encourage obesity and that have a high salt content.

POLYPS IN THE FAMILY

D. S. writes: What is familial polyposis?

REPLY

A hereditary condition in which polyps develop in the rectum and colon of young persons. Complete removal of the colon and rectum is required.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A famous author, determined to get away from the hurly-burly of the big town, bought a rambling old house in a sleepy New England town. For some weeks he enjoyed absolute seclusion, but then he noticed that kids began to stare at him—merchants too—every time he walked down the main-street. Not too displeased, he told his wife, "Who'd have thought people in a town like this — particularly the children — would hero-worship an author?" His wife said, "I hate to disillusion you, but I'm afraid it's all your young son's doing. He has been boasting to everybody within earshot that you're a bookmaker!"

Milt Kadison, of the New Rochelle Kadisons, blew his top when his wife insisted on taking driving lessons. The first day she was alone at the wheel, he told his friend, he saw her wobbling down

Westchester Avenue. He rushed into the house, double-locked the door, ran up three flights of stairs to his private office, and took refuge under the desk. "It wasn't any use," sighed Kadison. "She got me anyhow."

Tony DeMarco Stops Saxton To Win Title

10,000 See Welter Scrap End In 14th Round At Boston

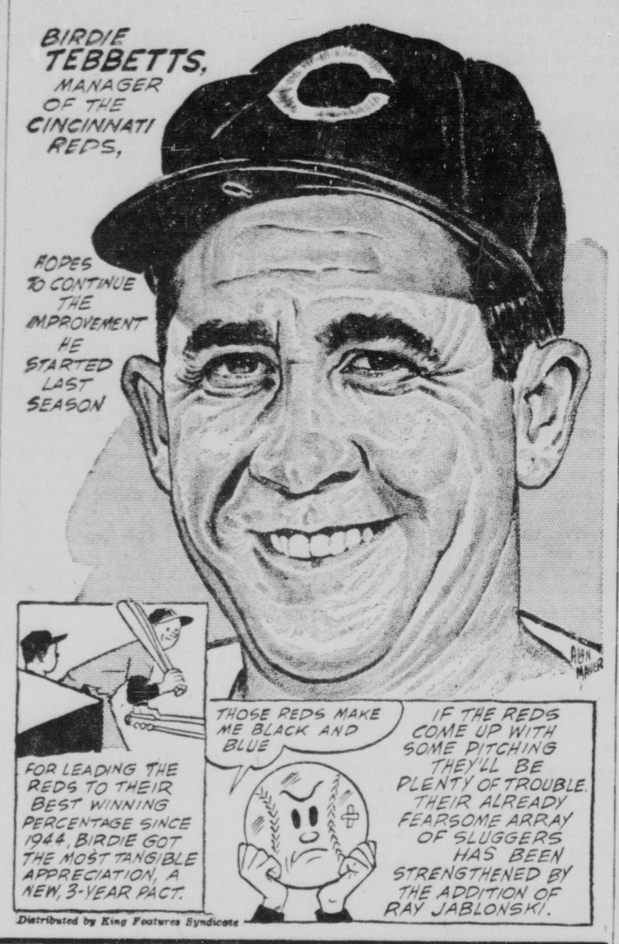

BOSTON, April 1 (AP)—Stiff-punching Tony DeMarco of Boston won the world's welterweight boxing championship tonight by stopping Johnny Saxton at 2:20 of the 14th round in their scheduled 15-round bout at Boston Garden.

The 23-year-old Boston slugger, cheered on by a partisan crowd of more than 10,000, staggered Saxton with a wicked left hook at about the two minute mark of the 14th round and refused to let the champion get away.

DeMarco bombed away with brutal left hooks and right crosses as the beaten champion stood helpless in his own corner. Saxton finally went down from the tremendous blows for a count of nine.

Saxton braced himself in the corner again as DeMarco rushed in for the kill. The plucky New York battler took heavy punishment and was virtually out on his feet, but refused to go down. Referee Mel Manning finally stepped in and stopped it.

Joe Reichler Picks Cleveland To Repeat As Champions In AL

Says Better Hurling And Greater Power Gives Indians Edge

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are this writer's pick to capture the American League pennant for the second straight year because they have more and better pitching and greater power than any of the other seven clubs.

The runnerup spot must go to the New York Yankees whose wealth of talent everywhere but in the pitching department makes them far superior to any of their rivals with the exception of the Indians. Only the uncertainty of their pitching keeps the Yankees from being a match for the defending champions.

Chicago Picked Third

The Chicago White Sox, with abundant pitching, a well-knit defense but inadequate power, don't appear to be in a class with the Indians and Yankees but they are much too strong for the others. The rest of the league can be divided into two groups, with Boston, Detroit and Washington battling for the remaining spot in the first division and Baltimore and Kansas City struggling to stay out of the cellar.

This is the way the order of finish is seen from here:

1. Cleveland
2. New York
3. Chicago
4. Detroit
5. Boston
6. Washington
7. Baltimore
8. Kansas City

No club in baseball can boast such a mighty big three as Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, all potential 20-game winners. If Herb Score, the young rookie southpaw who struck out the phenomenal total of 330 American Association batters in 251 innings last year, lives up to his bill, this can be the greatest pitching staff ever put together. And practically every qualified observer says Score can't miss.

Tribe Has Pitching

Potomac State Plays Twin Bill With Mt. Union

Bob Sirk of Romney and Al Ecklof of Keansburg, N. J., are slated to work on the firing line for Potomac State College when Coach John Maiden's Catamounts launch their 18-game baseball schedule today in a doubleheader with Mount Union College of Alliance, Ohio, at Keyser at 1 p. m.

The Mount Union team is coached by Jackson Rafeld, a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College. Rafeld is also assistant athletic director of physical education at the Ohio school.

Mount Union and Potomac State will be meeting in the eighth and ninth games of their series. Potomac holds a 4-3 edge in wins.

CVAL Revived, Seven Schools Join For 1956

Fort Hill, Allegany In Football League; Beall Is Undecided

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., April 1 (AP)—The old Cumberland Valley Athletic League, made up of high schools in three states, was reorganized here tonight. Competition will begin in 1956.

Schools included are Martinsburg, Handley of Winchester, Va., Warren County of Front Royal, Va. Ft. Hill and Allegany of Cumberland, Hagerstown and Frederick, Md.

Beall of Frostburg and Westminster, Md., indicated they might join.

Garland L. Quarles, principal of Handley and superintendent of schools in Winchester, was elected temporary president. William Donaldson, principal of Hagerstown High, was named temporary secretary-treasurer.

Coaches and principals of Martinsburg, Ft. Hill and Handley were named to a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws. The group will submit the document for final approval at a meeting next Dec. 10 at Hagerstown.

Representatives also agreed to meet April 17 in Hagerstown to work out a 1956 football schedule.

It was decided to limit competition to football and track after several schools said membership in other leagues blocked their competing in basketball.

Track competition would include a CVAL meet.

Quarles was once treasurer of the old league, which operated before World War II with many of the same schools as members. The league faded out during the war years.

Konno And Gawboy Establish World Swimming Marks

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 1 (INS)—Two world records were smashed tonight when Ohio State's Hawaiian ace Ford Konno successfully defended his 220-yard freestyle AAU championship and "Cinderella" swimmer Bob Gawboy of Ely, Minn., captured the 220-yard breast stroke title.

The 22-year-old Konno, who had established the world record of 2:04.7 just 13 months ago, bettered his own listed mark by seven-tenths of a second as he stroked to victory over Michigan's Jack Wardrop.

Wardrop, 20-year-old transplanted Scotsman, last month defeated Konno in 2:03.4 at Columbus, Ohio, to apply for the new world record. Konno's old time, however, still is the listed world record.

Gawboy, 22-year-old half-blind swimmer who had never competed in the breast stroke before today, followed up his afternoon AAU record qualifying time of two minutes, 38.9 seconds with a world-shattering record performance in the evening finale.

His time of 2:38 flat chopped eight-tenths of a second from the world standard hung up by Denmark's Knud Gleie at Odense last August. It was also a new American and AAU mark.

Jimmy Stinson, however, settled the issue by dumping in a pair of foul shots to make it 49-46 before Brant's doubledecker put Calvary only one point in the rear at the final whistle.

Calvary lost Johnny Teter as the result of a leg injury he suffered in the early minutes of the contest.

Grace was outscored 21 to 16 from the field but outpointed Calvary 17 to 6 at the charity line.

The game's high scorer was Brant who slammed in 11 goals and 24 points for the West Virginians. Stinson and Brown were the "big guns" for Grace Methodist with 14 and 13 markers.

If Deer Bill Passes . . . TV Grid Plan Sound

Davies Gets Big Job . . . Bond And Emery Tied

By C. V. BURNS

IF a bill before the Pennsylvania Legislature becomes law, thousands of Maryland hunters will be hopping mad.

This bill would make non-resident licenses invalid during the first week of any deer season.

Opening day of deer season always sees the largest kill, and it usually drops off daily as the season progresses. Marylanders, like Pennsylvanians, prefer the early hunting.

If this bill is passed there may be retaliatory measures taken by Maryland. When Pennsylvania increased its non-resident fee to $20, Maryland followed suit.

REGARDLESS of how the colleges feel about the compromise TV control plan of the NCAA for football, they have not been able to lick the sound thinking behind the policy of protection for all, as against privileges for a few, so they have voted overwhelmingly to go along again.

In announcing the new setup sent to its members for a vote, the NCAA capsuled the problem thus:

"Why do the colleges control the telecasting of their football games? . . . (Because) television has an adverse effect on stadium attendance.

"Gate receipts are used to help finance the colleges' comprehensive intercollegiate intramural and physical training programs which form the cornerstone for our nation's physical preparedness.

"Reduced attendance will result in curtailed athletic programs at a time when the nation needs to stress physical fitness."

That's the story. If you give away the games you can't expect to sell them at the box office and colleges can't pay bills with empty seats at the athletic fields and full chairs in front of TV sets.

THE RECENT edict of the Maryland Public Secondary Schools Athletic Association banning certain awards to athletes will not affect the Hazelwood Award at Fort Hill High School and the Babst Award at Allegany High School.

Candidates for these awards, which are presented on commencement day, must be seniors.

The new regulation becomes effective in September 1955, beginning of the next school year.

WHEN the University of Maryland discontinued its annual Field Day the announcement came as a jolt to Fort Hill High School as the Sentinels won three of these meets and shared first place with Montgomery Blair last year in seven tries.

Fort Hill won the meet outright in 1947, 1951 and 1952, was third in 1948, second in 1950 and fourth in 1953.

"CHICK" DAVIES, coach of Duquesne University quints for 21 seasons, mentor of Homestead High teams for 10 seasons, and commissioner of the All-American Pro Basketball League, in which the Cumberland Dukes were represented, is going to South America to supervise the building of an Olympic team for Colombia.

The 54-year-old mentor is headed for Bogota after getting a year's sabbatical leave. He will tour the nation, setting up clinics to bring out talent for the 1956 Olympics.

J. WILLIAM HUNT, director of the annual Times-News Marbles Tournament, says the "mibs" used in the games here come from Clarksburg, W. Va.

West Virginia, incidentally, lays claim to being the biggest marbles manufacturing state in the union.

We mention this because of the fact that bills have been introduced in Congress to protect the marble-making industry in this country from a flood of the foreign-made product.

NAMES of the 23 thoroughbred race horses owned by Harry Isaacs, Baltimore, all begin with the letter "I."

They are Impromptu, In Spite Of, I Would, Infatuation, I Gee Gee, I Appeal, I Salute, Inflame, Imagen, Idehi, I Can Can, Isterrific, I Tops, In Honor, Imwithu, Isdelovely, Individuality, In Rome As, Illite, In Harmony, Instride, In Again and Itobe.

THERE is a real battle on at Bowie for the role of leading trainer of the meeting.

And the deadlocked leaders at the close of the 16th day were former favorites at Fairgo.

Dave Emery led the riders at the 5-day meeting here in 1927 with eight winners. J. B. (Bowes) Bond topped the trainers at the initial 10-day session here in 1935 with seven firsts.

Dave and Bowes now lead at Bowie with nine winners each..

BILL NILAND, former local boxer, now with the Prudence Life Insurance Company, writes from Indianapolis to tell us we goofed when we said Joe McGreevy represented the South Atlantic Association in national AAU boxing tournaments in 1935 and 1936. Bill is correct it should have been 1936 and 1937.

Niland recalls that he was the only boxer from here to go to the St. Louis event in 1935. He was only 16 then and took the SAA title by copping six bouts, two via forfeit, on opening night. In the national tourney he decisioned Willie Simms, of St. Louis, and dropped a decision to Lawrence Rego, of Honolulu, Hawaii.

THE Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League is in its eighth season and according to Secretary Paul A. Stitcher, Hugh "Pat" Kilroy of the Cumberland Knights of Columbus holds the distinction of being the only player who has appeared in every game since the loop started in 1948.

THE Potomac Valley Conference will hold its track and field meet this year at Fort Hill Stadium. The date is Tuesday, April 26.

The Tar Heels scored three runs in the opening inning to wipe out a two-run deficit, added three more in the second and concluded with four in the eighth.

Tanner, Long In Minors, Could Latch Onto Braves

BY WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Chuck Tanner, a star outfielder for Denver in the Western association back in 1949, stroked a long ball and took off around the rain-soaked infield, hoping for a home run.

As he rounded third base one of Chuck's spiked shoes, an old pair, became stuck in the mud outside the bag but he kept coming on home, with one shoe. He had to slide head first to make it but he got his home run. Then he went back to third to pick up the shoe.

Tanner, after nine years in the minors, has both feet on the ground now—and both shoes—and he is probably the most-talked-about "rookie" in the Milwaukee Braves camp at Bradentown, Fla. Manager Charlie Grimm says Tanner is ready.

Chuck, who will be 26 on the Fourth of July, is hopeful that he will make it to the majors, although this is his first real chance.

Tanner is a fine hitter, based on his record in the minors, where he batted .300 in eight of those seasons. Last year, with Atlanta, he put the finishing touches to his readiness by playing in 155 games, posting a .323 average and stroking in 101 tallies on 20 homers and assorted hits.

Tanner, a native of New Castle, Pa., where he was an outstanding football star, in addition to being a standout in basketball and track, was signed to the Braves as a 17-year-old American Legion graduate by Jack Reider. The bonus was $6,000.

The climb has been a long one, although Tanner's record is good. He went from Owensboro, Ky., to Eau Claire, Wis., to Pawtucket, R. I., then to Denver, Colo., Atlanta, Ga., Milwaukee (then in the American association), Atlanta again, Toledo, O., and back to Atlanta once more.

Chuck enjoyed his best season at bat with Eau Claire in the Northern league in 1948 when he not only hit .361 but also had a streak of 40 hits in 79 times at bat. With Atlanta in 1952 he hit safely in 29 straight games for another fancy achievement.

Paul Waner, the old "Big Poison" Pirate, helped him most with his batting. His fielding always has been good, having made only 16 errors in three years with Atlanta.

Tanner is a lefty all the way. He is 6 feet tall and weighs in at 190. Married, he is the father of two children, Mark, 4, and Gary, 20 months.

In the off season he works as a photographer, taking pictures of school children.

10,000 See Welter Scrap End In 14th Round At Boston

BOSTON, April 1 (AP)—Stiff-punching Tony DeMarco of Boston won the world's welterweight boxing championship tonight by stopping Johnny Saxton at 2:20 of the 14th round in their scheduled 15-round bout at Boston Garden.

The 23-year-old Boston slugger, cheered on by a partisan crowd of more than 10,000, staggered Saxton with a wicked left hook at about the two minute mark of the 14th round and refused to let the champion get away.

DeMarco bombed away with brutal left hooks and right crosses as the beaten champion stood helpless in his own corner. Saxton finally went down from the tremendous blows for a count of nine.

Saxton braced himself in the corner again as DeMarco rushed in for the kill. The plucky New York battler took heavy punishment and was virtually out on his feet, but refused to go down. Referee Mel Manning finally stepped in and stopped it.

"Reduced attendance will result in curtailed athletic programs at a time when the nation needs to stress physical fitness."

That's the story. If you give away the games you can't expect to sell them at the box office and colleges can't pay bills with empty seats at the athletic fields and full chairs in front of TV sets.

THE RECENT edict of the Maryland Public Secondary Schools Athletic Association banning certain awards to athletes will not affect the Hazelwood Award at Fort Hill High School and the Babst Award at Allegany High School.

Candidates for these awards, which are presented on commencement day, must be seniors.

The new regulation becomes effective in September 1955, beginning of the next school year.

WHEN the University of Maryland discontinued its annual Field Day the announcement came as a jolt to Fort Hill High School as the Sentinels won three of these meets and shared first place with Montgomery Blair last year in seven tries.

Fort Hill won the meet outright in 1947, 1951 and 1952, was third in 1948, second in 1950 and fourth in 1953.

"CHICK" DAVIES, coach of Duquesne University quints for 21 seasons, mentor of Homestead High teams for 10 seasons, and commissioner of the All-American Pro Basketball League, in which the Cumberland Dukes were represented, is going to South America to supervise the building of an Olympic team for Colombia.

The 54-year-old mentor is headed for Bogota after getting a year's sabbatical leave. He will tour the nation, setting up clinics to bring out talent for the 1956 Olympics.

J. WILLIAM HUNT, director of the annual Times-News Marbles Tournament, says the "mibs" used in the games here come from Clarksburg, W. Va.

West Virginia, incidentally, lays claim to being the biggest marbles manufacturing state in the union.

We mention this because of the fact that bills have been introduced in Congress to protect the marble-making industry in this country from a flood of the foreign-made product.

THERE is a real battle on at Bowie for the role of leading trainer of the meeting.

And the deadlocked leaders at the close of the 16th day were former favorites at Fairgo.

Dave Emery led the riders at the 5-day meeting here in 1927 with eight winners. J. B. (Bowes) Bond topped the trainers at the initial 10-day session here in 1935 with seven firsts.

Dave and Bowes now lead at Bowie with nine winners each..

BILL NILAND, former local boxer, now with the Prudence Life Insurance Company, writes from Indianapolis to tell us we goofed when we said Joe McGreevy represented the South Atlantic Association in national AAU boxing tournaments in 1935 and 1936. Bill is correct it should have been 1936 and 1937.

Niland recalls that he was the only boxer from here to go to the St. Louis event in 1935. He was only 16 then and took the SAA title by copping six bouts, two via forfeit, on opening night. In the national tourney he decisioned Willie Simms, of St. Louis, and dropped a decision to Lawrence Rego, of Honolulu, Hawaii.

THE Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League is in its eighth season and according to Secretary Paul A. Stitcher, Hugh "Pat" Kilroy of the Cumberland Knights of Columbus holds the distinction of being the only player who has appeared in every game since the loop started in 1948.

THE Potomac Valley Conference will hold its track and field meet this year at Fort Hill Stadium. The date is Tuesday, April 26.

Tar Heels Down Terrapins, 10-5

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., April 1 (AP) —North Carolina's Tar Heels got all of their runs in three big innings today to score a 10-5 victory over Maryland's Terps in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

The Tar Heels scored three runs in the opening inning to wipe out a two-run deficit, added three more in the second and concluded with four in the eighth.

Big Tom Maultsby, junior right-hander, went the distance for the winners. Maultsby pitched five-hit ball until the Terps bunched five safeties for three runs in the ninth.

Maryland jumped into a two-run lead on Jack Doane's single, a stolen base, error, sacrifice fly and Bill Walker's 400-foot homer.

Says Better Hurling And Greater Power Gives Indians Edge

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are this writer's pick to capture the American League pennant for the second straight year because they have more and better pitching and greater power than any of the other seven clubs.

The runnerup spot must go to the New York Yankees whose wealth of talent everywhere but in the pitching department makes them far superior to any of their rivals with the exception of the Indians. Only the uncertainty of their pitching keeps the Yankees from being a match for the defending champions.

Chicago Picked Third

The Chicago White Sox, with abundant pitching, a well-knit defense but inadequate power, don't appear to be in a class with the Indians and Yankees but they are much too strong for the others. The rest of the league can be divided into two groups, with Boston, Detroit and Washington battling for the remaining spot in the first division and Baltimore and Kansas City struggling to stay out of the cellar.

This is the way the order of finish is seen from here:

1. Cleveland
2. New York
3. Chicago
4. Detroit
5. Boston
6. Washington
7. Baltimore
8. Kansas City

No club in baseball can boast such a mighty big three as Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, all potential 20-game winners. If Herb Score, the young rookie southpaw who struck out the phenomenal total of 330 American Association batters in 251 innings last year, lives up to his bill, this can be the greatest pitching staff ever put together. And practically every qualified observer says Score can't miss.

Tribe Has Pitching

Just look at Cleveland's second line pitching . . . Art Houtteman, Bob Feller, Don Mossi, and Ray Narleski. This quartet won 37 games and lost only 14 last year for a spectacular .725 percentage. On almost any other club these fellows probably would be first stringers.

Terrors Lose, 13-2

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY, Va., April 1 (AP) — Hampden-Sydney punched across six runs in its first turn at bat here today and went on to rout Western Maryland 13-2 in a Mason-Dixon Conference baseball game.

The Tigers reached four Western Maryland pitchers for nine hits while Tom Glascock and Jim Siersema limited the Green Terrors to five safeties.

Potomac State Plays Twin Bill With Mt. Union

Bob Sirk of Romney and Al Ecklof of Keansburg, N. J., are slated to work on the firing line for Potomac State College when Coach John Maiden's Catamounts launch their 18-game baseball schedule today in a doubleheader with Mount Union College of Alliance, Ohio, at Keyser at 1 p. m.

The Mount Union team is coached by Jackson Rafeld, a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College. Rafeld is also assistant athletic director of physical education at the Ohio school.

Mount Union and Potomac State will be meeting in the eighth and ninth games of their series. Potomac holds a 4-3 edge in wins.

Fort Hill, Allegany In Football League; Beall Is Undecided

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., April 1 (AP)—The old Cumberland Valley Athletic League, made up of high schools in three states, was reorganized here tonight. Competition will begin in 1956.

Schools included are Martinsburg, Handley of Winchester, Va., Warren County of Front Royal, Va. Ft. Hill and Allegany of Cumberland, Hagerstown and Frederick, Md.

Beall of Frostburg and Westminster, Md., indicated they might join.

Garland L. Quarles, principal of Handley and superintendent of schools in Winchester, was elected temporary president. William Donaldson, principal of Hagerstown High, was named temporary secretary-treasurer.

Coaches and principals of Martinsburg, Ft. Hill and Handley were named to a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws. The group will submit the document for final approval at a meeting next Dec. 10 at Hagerstown.

Representatives also agreed to meet April 17 in Hagerstown to work out a 1956 football schedule.

It was decided to limit competition to football and track after several schools said membership in other leagues blocked their competing in basketball.

Track competition would include a CVAL meet.

Quarles was once treasurer of the old league, which operated before World War II with many of the same schools as members. The league faded out during the war years.

Tanner, Long In Minors, Could Latch Onto Braves

BY WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Chuck Tanner, a star outfielder for Denver in the Western association back in 1949, stroked a long ball and took off around the rain-soaked infield, hoping for a home run.

As he rounded third base one of Chuck's spiked shoes, an old pair, became stuck in the mud outside the bag but he kept coming on home, with one shoe. He had to slide head first to make it but he got his home run. Then he went back to third to pick up the shoe.

Tanner, after nine years in the minors, has both feet on the ground now—and both shoes—and he is probably the most-talked-about "rookie" in the Milwaukee Braves camp at Bradentown, Fla. Manager Charlie Grimm says Tanner is ready.

Chuck, who will be 26 on the Fourth of July, is hopeful that he will make it to the majors, although this is his first real chance.

Tanner is a fine hitter, based on his record in the minors, where he batted .300 in eight of those seasons. Last year, with Atlanta, he put the finishing touches to his readiness by playing in 155 games, posting a .323 average and stroking in 101 tallies on 20 homers and assorted hits.

Tanner, a native of New Castle, Pa., where he was an outstanding football star, in addition to being a standout in basketball and track, was signed to the Braves as a 17-year-old American Legion graduate by Jack Reider. The bonus was $6,000.

The climb has been a long one, although Tanner's record is good. He went from Owensboro, Ky., to Eau Claire, Wis., to Pawtucket, R. I., then to Denver, Colo., Atlanta, Ga., Milwaukee (then in the American association), Atlanta again, Toledo, O., and back to Atlanta once more.

Chuck enjoyed his best season at bat with Eau Claire in the Northern league in 1948 when he not only hit .361 but also had a streak of 40 hits in 79 times at bat. With Atlanta in 1952 he hit safely in 29 straight games for another fancy achievement.

Paul Waner, the old "Big Poison" Pirate, helped him most with his batting. His fielding always has been good, having made only 16 errors in three years with Atlanta.

Tanner is a lefty all the way. He is 6 feet tall and weighs in at 190. Married, he is the father of two children, Mark, 4, and Gary, 20 months.

In the off season he works as a photographer, taking pictures of school children.

Cordell Cooper tossed a four-hitter and struck out ten as Coach Cliff Towles' Capon Bridge High School tossers launched the Potomac Valley Conference baseball season with a 9-2 victory over the West Virginia School for the Deaf yesterday at Capon Bridge.

The teams battled on even terms for four innings then Capon Bridge rallied for seven runs in the fifth and sixth frames to put the game on ice.

Gailen Riley obtained the game's only extra base wallop, a triple with a mate aboard in the third inning.

David McWilliams, Lions' hurler, gave up six hits, issued seven bases on balls, hit two batters and whiffed seven.

Konno And Gawboy Establish World Swimming Marks

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 1 (INS)—Two world records were smashed tonight when Ohio State's Hawaiian ace Ford Konno successfully defended his 220-yard freestyle AAU championship and "Cinderella" swimmer Bob Gawboy of Ely, Minn., captured the 220-yard breast stroke title.

The 22-year-old Konno, who had established the world record of 2:04.7 just 13 months ago, bettered his own listed mark by seven-tenths of a second as he stroked to victory over Michigan's Jack Wardrop.

Wardrop, 20-year-old transplanted Scotsman, last month defeated Konno in 2:03.4 at Columbus, Ohio, to apply for the new world record. Konno's old time, however, still is the listed world record.

Gawboy, 22-year-old half-blind swimmer who had never competed in the breast stroke before today, followed up his afternoon AAU record qualifying time of two minutes, 38.9 seconds with a world-shattering record performance in the evening finale.

His time of 2:38 flat chopped eight-tenths of a second from the world standard hung up by Denmark's Knud Gleie at Odense last August. It was also a new American and AAU mark.

Grace Defeats Calvary, 49-48; Emmanuel Tops St. Luke, 61-54

Henry's Quint Wins At Foul Line; Roy Scores 26 Points

Grace Methodist, eight-times champion, and Emmanuel Methodist advanced to the finals of the Sunday School Basketball League playoffs last night and will clash for the title Tuesday night at 8 o'clock on the YMCA court.

Coach Walter Henry's Grace cagers defeated Calvary Methodist of Ridgeley, 49-48, while William "Bee" Orndorff's Emmanuel Methodist aggregation ushered out St. Luke's Lutherar by the score of 61-54 in last night's semi-finals at the "Y."

Score Tied Seven Times

Grace held a 13-10 lead at the quarter, trailed at halftime, 25-23, and also at the close of the third period, 32-31. The score was knotted three times in the first stanza, thrice in the second period and once in the final heat at 35-35.

Early in the last period Calvary took a 35-33 lead on free throws by Donald Eckard and Dave Baker but Grace Methodist's Bill Brown sank a field goal to knot the count for the last time at 35-all. Johnny Golightly meshed one of two free throws, Jim Shank and Brown scored from the field to make the count 40-35 and the Virginia Avenue team never was headed thereafter, although Darius Brant's fielder put the Ridgeleyites only one point behind at 47-46 with 1:08 remaining. Jimmy Stinson, however, settled the issue by dumping in a pair of foul shots to make it 49-46 before Brant's doubledecker put Calvary only one point in the rear at the final whistle.

Calvary lost Johnny Teter as the result of a leg injury he suffered in the early minutes of the contest.

Win At Foul Line

Grace was outscored 21 to 16 from the field but outpointed Calvary 17 to 6 at the charity line.

The game's high scorer was Brant who slammed in 11 goals and 24 points for the West Virginians. Stinson and Brown were the "big guns" for Grace Methodist with 14 and 13 markers.

St. Luke's scored six consecutive points on goals by Claude Nave and John Workmeister and two fouls by the latter in the last minute and 35 seconds but was unable to overcome the comfortable lead piled up by Emmanuel Methodist.

Lead by 18 Points

Emmanuel was in front at the quarter, 17-10, at halftime 31-24 and at the close of the third period, 45-32. Midway in the final quarter the Humbird Street quint held an 18-point advantage at 54-36 and 56-38.

Thurl Roy sparked the winners with 12 baskets and 26 points. Fred Ringler had 16 points and Terry Weltman contributed 14. Joe Smith with 23 tallies, including ten field goals, paced St. Luke's scorers. Nave garnered 15 and Workmeister 10.

Bobby Brocato, 19-1 Shot, Captures Paumomok At Jamaica

Arcaro Booed, Finishes Third On White Skies

$20,500 To Winner, Pays $40.90 Mutuel, 35,450 At Opening

BY JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Cheers for White Skies turned into booes for Eddie Arcaro today as Bobby Brocato, a 19 to 1 shot from Louisiana, zipped down the Jamaica stretch to capture the $29,550 Paumonok Handicap before a crowd of 35,450, opening the New York racing season.

Bobby Brocato had won only one stakes race in his career, the 1953 Sanford, but the dark bay son of Natchez-Dorothy Brown slipped through on the rail to grab the first money of $20,500 by a length over Morris Sims' Blessbull. The favored White Skies was third.

Bobby Brocato is a four-year-old colt owned by Joe W. Brown of New Orleans.

Won Feature Last Year

White Skies had won the 1954 Paumonok with Arcaro and was seeking his eighth straight stakes victory in New York. The six-year-old horse owned by William M. Wickham was voted the 1954 sprinting champion and had never lost a stakes race in New York until today. His 130-pound burden, same as he carried a year ago, proved too much. White Skies tired nearing the finish after battling Blessbull in a head and head duel down the stretch, and lost second money by a nose.

Meanwhile Bobby Brocato and Jockey Ray Broussard came charging down near the rail for their surprise victory.

Blessbull, who had won two stakes in Florida earlier this year, carried 119 pounds while Bobby Brocato had only 113. C. V. Whitney's Cold Command, who finished third in the Paumonok last year, was fourth, 8½ lengths behind White Skies in a field of 12 starters.

The winner was timed in 1:10 3/5 for the six furlongs or one fifth of a second faster than White Skies a year ago.

Bobby Brocato, who was named for the son of New Orleans restaurant man Diamond Jim Moran, paid $40.90, $13.10 and $5.10. Blessbull returned $4.90, $2.90, and White Skies was $2.50 to show.

The crowd had established White Skies as the 7-10 favorite. It was his first race since last July 5, when he won the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct. Arcaro had failed on two hot favorites in the fourth and fifth races just before the feature and when White Skies couldn't make it the boos were loud and strong.

Mark-Ye-Well Is Eighth

New York racing witnessed something it probably never had seen in a stakes race when a Calumet Farm horse, Mark-Ye-Well, went off at 50 to 1 and finished eighth. The last time Mark-Ye-Well raced in New York, in 1952, he was a big star in the stable and won the Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park, but since then he has been campaigning in California.

British Gambling Surpasses Billion

LONDON, April 1 (AP) — Britons poured out a total of $1,540,000,000 on gambling in 1954, the British Churches' Committee on gambling said in its annual report.

That total compared with $1,685,000,000 in 1953. Only in the case of football pools betting was there an increase in turnover.

"In these days of rising cost of living and incessant demands for more salaries and wages, it is a grave reflection both on our national common sense and morality that 12 to 14 million people send to the football pools every week approximately $4,480,000," the report said.

Football pool betting in Britain is something of a national pastime.

BOB MILLER (Pitcher) BUCKY HARRIS (Manager) J. W. PORTER (Outfielder)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—It was back in 1916 that a young hopeful got his first chance in baseball when invited to the Detroit Tigers' spring camp by Hughie Jennings, then manager of the club. The young ball player was Stanley (Bucky) Harris.

Today, nearly 40 years later, Bucky Harris is back with the Tigers in spring training, but now as manager for the second time. "It's pleasant to get back here again," the former boy wonder of baseball says. "It gives one renewed interest."

Harris, who piloted the Washington club last year, always has prided himself on never finishing last despite the fact he has had mediocre ball clubs to work with.

This year he takes on another big task, to mold a team which definitely is on the rise, based on a youth movement which is accented by one of the largest squads the Tigers have had in spring training for years.

"We have a lot of young talent here," Bucky said as he sat in the dugout at Henley Field. "But there's also enough solid experience which will blend with the youth."

"I'M NOT disturbed about anything but the pitching," Bucky continued. "We have a good start in Ned Garver, Steve Gromek and Lilly Hoeft. However, from there on we'll have to see. That Hoeft has really good stuff but he was a slight disappointment last year. (Hoeft won 7 and lost 15). This could be the turning point for him."

Bucky's pitching problem could be quite a difficult one to solve for there are 23—yes, 23—pitchers on the roster and to get a good look at all of them in practice games will be a rough job.

Those with experience besides the three mentioned above include Al Aber, the southpaw who was 5-11 last year; Ray Herbert, slim righthander, who had 3-6; Dick Marlowe, 5-4; Bob Miller, 1-1, and George Zuverink, who was 9-13.

Of the youngsters, several come up with fine records but are still not major leaguers. Leo Cristante, a big righthander, won 24 games for Atlanta; Ben Flowers, formerly in the Red Sox chain, was 11-12 for Louisville and he's expected to help; Bob Schultz, a lanky lefthander, had a fine 18-11 record with New Orleans and Jim Stump, a rightie, had 16-10 for Wilkes-Barre.

THE CATCHING? "My catching," said Bucky, "is adequate. We don't have a Yogi Berra in Frank House and Bob Wilson but they are satisfactory."

Four catchers, including the former Michigan State football star, Tom Yewcic, are on the roster, but Bucky probably will carry just House and Wilson.

The question in the infield, which appears set, is Ferris Fain's knee. Fain came to the club in the deal with the White Sox for Walt Dropo.

Fain says the knee feels fine now but it was stiff in first practice sessions. The former American league batting champion banged his right knee sliding into base in Boston last June. He underwent surgery in July and didn't play any more after that. He took it easy during the winter, however, at his home at Walnut Creek, Calif.

If Fain doesn't come through Bucky will use Wayne Belardi, who came over from Brooklyn last year.

The rest of the infield includes Fred Hatfield at second, the league standout, Harvey Kuenn, at shortstop, and the long-ball hitting Ray Boone at third. For insurance Bucky has the Italian-born bonus baby of last year, Rene Bertoia, and Jack Phillips, who comes up from Hollywood after being in the Yankee chain previously.

TWO of the best young ball players in the league, rookies last year, patrol the outfield. They are, of course, Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle. Kaline, judged one of the finest to come along in some time, added weight over the winter and he should be one of the Tigers' stars again. Tuttle played 147 games for the Striped Cats last year.

The struggle for the left field post is a three-way one, with Jim Delsing providing the experience and J. W. Porter and John Phillips barging in with youth and hope.

The No. 1 man may be Porter, the $65,000 bonus baby of the White Sox, who went to the Browns in a trade for Jim Rivera and then went into the service. Porter, who is drawing pay from both the Browns' replacement, Baltimore, and the Tigers, had a terrific record in his few seasons in the minors and also in the service.

"No one expects us to win the pennant," concluded Bucky, "but we may surprise some of them. This is a young club which could catch fire if our pitching improves."

Harris has moved back to Detroit. This was his home before, when he managed the Tigers in the years 1929-33.

Kearns Favors No Judges For Bout On Coast

Marciano Or Moore Wanted As Referee

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1 (AP) — Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns said today he will ask that either Rocky Marciano or Archie Moore be named to referee the April 13 bout between Carl (Bobo) Olson and Joey Maxim, without any judges.

Kearns, Maxim's manager, said he will make a formal request to the California State Athletic Commission that either one or the other of the champions be selected as the sole official for the nationally televised bout. Both Marciano, the heavyweight titlist, and Moore, who holds the light-heavyweight crown, are in California.

Kearns' statement followed a blast at the officiating of the Willie Pep-Gil Cadilli featherweight bout Wednesday night. Cadilli won an unpopular split decision. Both judges who voted for him were disciplined by the commission.

Sid Flaherty, who manages both Olson, the middleweight champion, and Cadilli, was criticized for being friendly with the two judges. Flaherty immediately announced he would prefer to have Kearns suggest the officials for the Olson-Maxim 10-rounder.

Kansas City Loses To Savannah, 9-8

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 1 (AP) — Savannah's Class A farm hands treated the parent Kansas City Athletics rudely this afternoon to take a 9-8 exhibition baseball decision.

The Athletics unleashed a 15-hit attack featuring four home runs by Bill Renna, Vic Power, Bill Stewart and Bill Wilson, but leaky defensive play gave Savannah the game.

The A's made four errors, the most costly by second baseman Hector Lopez. He dropped a soft pop off the bat of Leroy Schmidt with two out and two on in the eighth while the A's lead 8-7. Then he threw wildly past first to allow the winning runs to score.

THE GREATER BLAME

SOUTH was not without blame in the bidding of the hand below, but it was North who was largely responsible for the costly outcome.

The bidding:

West opened the seven of spades, and the result was a 300-point penalty. South could have saved a trick by super-cautious play, but he went all-out to bring the hand home.

As may be seen, North would have had no trouble in making four hearts, and therefore the "swing" against North-South was approximately 700 points.

A rather sharp discussion then ensued between North and South over who had been responsible. North strongly criticized South's two-notrump call, saying that this had virtually guaranteed a second spade stopper. North said that he had felt doubly secure in this sense because he was supplying the spade jack.

This criticism of the notrump rebid was justified—South would have been much wiser to bid three clubs at this point (or to bid two clubs on the first round, then two notrump over two spades). But certainly North's errors were more numerous and more serious. First, he should have jumped to three hearts over one notrump; second, he should have bid four hearts over two notrump; and third, he had still another chance to land in hearts when three notrump was doubled. It was all very fine to regard the spade jack as a second potential stopper but it obviously did not figure to be an entry, and North simply could not afford to count on South's having the king of hearts to solidify that suit.

King And Douglas Post 7-4 Triumph

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 1 (AP) —Nelson King and Whammy Douglas teamed up effectively today to pitch the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-4 exhibition win over the Baltimore Orioles.

Douglas worked the first five innings and got credit for the victory. He gave up five hits and three runs. King held the Orioles to three hits and a single tally the rest of the way.

Gene Freese doubled home two Pirate runs in the fifth and Frank Thomas, Jack Shepard and Felipe Montemayor each contributed run-scoring safeties.

Vern Stephens led the Baltimore attack, smashing a two-run double in the fourth and scoring Gil Coan on a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Groat Is Top Vote Getter

Dick Makes Army All-Star Quint

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — Dick Groat, former Duke University All-America player now playing shortstop for Pittsburgh Pirates, was the top vote getter on the armed forces all-star basketball team, announced today.

The team was picked by the armed forces press service from among 350 players nominated by service and civilian sports writers and coaches.

Named on the first team with Groat, stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., until his discharge Feb. 11, were Cliff Hagan of Kentucky, Larry H. Hennessy of Villanova, Ernie Beck of Pennsylvania and Richie Regan of Seton Hall. Groat and Beck also were on last year's team.

Bobby Brocato, 19-1 Shot, Captures Paumomok At Jamaica

Arcaro Booed, Finishes Third On White Skies

BY JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Cheers for White Skies turned into booes for Eddie Arcaro today as Bobby Brocato, a 19 to 1 shot from Louisiana, zipped down the Jamaica stretch to capture the $29,550 Paumonok Handicap before a crowd of 35,450, opening the New York racing season.

Bobby Brocato had won only one stakes race in his career, the 1953 Sanford, but the dark bay son of Natchez-Dorothy Brown slipped through on the rail to grab the first money of $20,500 by a length over Morris Sims' Blessbull. The favored White Skies was third.

Bobby Brocato is a four-year-old colt owned by Joe W. Brown of New Orleans.

Won Feature Last Year

White Skies had won the 1954 Paumonok with Arcaro and was seeking his eighth straight stakes victory in New York. The six-year-old horse owned by William M. Wickham was voted the 1954 sprinting champion and had never lost a stakes race in New York until today. His 130-pound burden, same as he carried a year ago, proved too much. White Skies tired nearing the finish after battling Blessbull in a head and head duel down the stretch, and lost second money by a nose.

Meanwhile Bobby Brocato and Jockey Ray Broussard came charging down near the rail for their surprise victory.

Blessbull, who had won two stakes in Florida earlier this year, carried 119 pounds while Bobby Brocato had only 113. C. V. Whitney's Cold Command, who finished third in the Paumonok last year, was fourth, 8½ lengths behind White Skies in a field of 12 starters.

The winner was timed in 1:10 3/5 for the six furlongs or one fifth of a second faster than White Skies a year ago.

Bobby Brocato, who was named for the son of New Orleans restaurant man Diamond Jim Moran, paid $40.90, $13.10 and $5.10. Blessbull returned $4.90, $2.90, and White Skies was $2.50 to show.

The crowd had established White Skies as the 7-10 favorite. It was his first race since last July 5, when he won the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct. Arcaro had failed on two hot favorites in the fourth and fifth races just before the feature and when White Skies couldn't make it the boos were loud and strong.

Mark-Ye-Well Is Eighth

New York racing witnessed something it probably never had seen in a stakes race when a Calumet Farm horse, Mark-Ye-Well, went off at 50 to 1 and finished eighth. The last time Mark-Ye-Well raced in New York, in 1952, he was a big star in the stable and won the Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park, but since then he has been campaigning in California.

British Gambling Surpasses Billion

LONDON, April 1 (AP) — Britons poured out a total of $1,540,000,000 on gambling in 1954, the British Churches' Committee on gambling said in its annual report.

That total compared with $1,685,000,000 in 1953. Only in the case of football pools betting was there an increase in turnover.

"In these days of rising cost of living and incessant demands for more salaries and wages, it is a grave reflection both on our national common sense and morality that 12 to 14 million people send to the football pools every week approximately $4,480,000," the report said.

Football pool betting in Britain is something of a national pastime.

Tigers Again On Prowl; No '55 Pennant, But Club Definitely On Its Way Back

BOB MILLER (Pitcher) — BUCKY HARRIS (Manager) — J. W. PORTER (Outfielder)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—It was back in 1916 that a young hopeful got his first chance in baseball when invited to the Detroit Tigers' spring camp by Hughie Jennings, then manager of the club. The young ball player was Stanley (Bucky) Harris.

Today, nearly 40 years later, Bucky Harris is back with the Tigers in spring training, but now as manager for the second time. "It's pleasant to get back here again," the former boy wonder of baseball says. "It gives one renewed interest."

Harris, who piloted the Washington club last year, always has prided himself on never finishing last despite the fact he has had mediocre ball clubs to work with.

This year he takes on another big task, to mold a team which definitely is on the rise, based on a youth movement which is accented by one of the largest squads the Tigers have had in spring training for years.

"We have a lot of young talent here," Bucky said as he sat in the dugout at Henley Field. "But there's also enough solid experience which will blend with the youth."

"I'M NOT disturbed about anything but the pitching," Bucky continued. "We have a good start in Ned Garver, Steve Gromek and Lilly Hoeft. However, from there on we'll have to see. That Hoeft has really good stuff but he was a slight disappointment last year. (Hoeft won 7 and lost 15). This could be the turning point for him."

Bucky's pitching problem could be quite a difficult one to solve for there are 23—yes, 23—pitchers on the roster and to get a good look at all of them in practice games will be a rough job.

Those with experience besides the three mentioned above include Al Aber, the southpaw who was 5-11 last year; Ray Herbert, slim righthander, who had 3-6; Dick Marlowe, 5-4; Bob Miller, 1-1, and George Zuverink, who was 9-13.

Of the youngsters, several come up with fine records but are still not major leaguers. Leo Cristante, a big righthander, won 24 games for Atlanta; Ben Flowers, formerly in the Red Sox chain, was 11-12 for Louisville and he's expected to help; Bob Schultz, a lanky lefthander, had a fine 18-11 record with New Orleans and Jim Stump, a righty, had 16-10 for Wilkes-Barre.

THE CATCHING? "My catching," said Bucky, "is adequate. We don't have a Yogi Berra in Frank House and Bob Wilson but they are satisfactory."

Four catchers, including the former Michigan State football star, Tom Yewcic, are on the roster, but Bucky probably will carry just House and Wilson.

The question in the infield, which appears set, is Ferris Fain's knee. Fain came to the club in the deal with the White Sox for Walt Dropo.

Fain says the knee feels fine now but it was stiff in first practice sessions. The former American league batting champion banged his right knee sliding into base in Boston last June. He underwent surgery in July and didn't play any more after that. He took it easy during the winter, however, at his home at Walnut Creek, Calif.

If Fain doesn't come through Bucky will use Wayne Belardi, who came over from Brooklyn last year.

The rest of the infield includes Fred Hatfield at second, the league standout, Harvey Kuenn, at shortstop, and the long-ball hitting Ray Boone at third. For insurance Bucky has the Italian-born bonus baby of last year, Rene Bertoia, and Jack Phillips, who comes up from Hollywood after being in the Yankee chain previously.

TWO of the best young ball players in the league, rookies last year, patrol the outfield. They are, of course, Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle. Kaline, judged one of the finest to come along in some time, added weight over the winter and he should be one of the Tigers' stars again. Tuttle played 147 games for the Striped Cats last year.

The struggle for the left field post is a three-way one, with Jim Delsing providing the experience and J. W. Porter and John Phillips barging in with youth and hope.

The No. 1 man may be Porter, the $65,000 bonus baby of the White Sox, who went to the Browns in a trade for Jim Rivera and then went into the service. Porter, who is drawing pay from both the Browns' replacement, Baltimore, and the Tigers, had a terrific record in his few seasons in the minors and also in the service.

"No one expects us to win the pennant," concluded Bucky, "but we may surprise some of them. This is a young club which could catch fire if our pitching improves."

Harris has moved back to Detroit. This was his home before, when he managed the Tigers in the years 1929-33.

Kearns Favors No Judges For Bout On Coast

Marciano Or Moore Wanted As Referee

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1 (AP) — Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns said today he will ask that either Rocky Marciano or Archie Moore be named to referee the April 13 bout between Carl (Bobo) Olson and Joey Maxim, without any judges.

Kearns, Maxim's manager, said he will make a formal request to the California State Athletic Commission that either one or the other of the champions be selected as the sole official for the nationally televised bout. Both Marciano, the heavyweight titlist, and Moore, who holds the light-heavyweight crown, are in California.

Kearns' statement followed a blast at the officiating of the Willie Pep-Gil Cadilli featherweight bout Wednesday night. Cadilli won an unpopular split decision. Both judges who voted for him were disciplined by the commission.

Sid Flaherty, who manages both Olson, the middleweight champion, and Cadilli, was criticized for being friendly with the two judges. Flaherty immediately announced he would prefer to have Kearns suggest the officials for the Olson-Maxim 10-rounder.

Kansas City Loses To Savannah, 9-8

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 1 (AP) — Savannah's Class A farm hands treated the parent Kansas City Athletics rudely this afternoon to take a 9-8 exhibition baseball decision.

The Athletics unleashed a 15-hit attack featuring four home runs by Bill Renna, Vic Power, Bill Stewart and Bill Wilson, but leaky defensive play gave Savannah the game.

The A's made four errors, the most costly by second baseman Hector Lopez. He dropped a soft pop off the bat of Leroy Schmidt with two out and two on in the eighth while the A's lead 8-7. Then he threw wildly past first to allow the winning runs to score.

THE GREATER BLAME

SOUTH was not without blame in the bidding of the hand below, but it was North who was largely responsible for the costly outcome.

West opened the seven of spades, and the result was a 300-point penalty. South could have saved a trick by super-cautious play, but he went all-out to bring the hand home.

As may be seen, North would have had no trouble in making four hearts, and therefore the "swing" against North-South was approximately 700 points.

A rather sharp discussion then ensued between North and South over who had been responsible. North strongly criticized South's two-notrump call, saying that this had virtually guaranteed a second spade stopper. North said that he had felt doubly secure in this sense because he was supplying the spade jack.

This criticism of the notrump rebid was justified—South would have been much wiser to bid three clubs at this point (or to bid two clubs on the first round, then two notrump over two spades). But certainly North's errors were more numerous and more serious. First, he should have jumped to three hearts over one notrump; second, he should have bid four hearts over two notrump; and third, he had still another chance to land in hearts when three notrump was doubled. It was all very fine to regard the spade jack as a second potential stopper but it obviously did not figure to be an entry, and North simply could not afford to count on South's having the king of hearts to solidify that suit.

Three Cresaptown Youths Are Paroled

Three Cresaptown youths were sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys at a hearing yesterday before substitute Magistrate Morris Baron for a series of thefts in that area. The three pleaded guilty to the offenses and Magistrate Baron placed them on parole for two years.

The youths were picked up by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the LaVale State Police barracks, and allegedly signed confessions to having committed at least 10 separate breaking and enterings and larcenies during the past six weeks

The amount of their thefts and damages totaled $149, and Magistrate Baron ordered the parents of the three youths to each pay $50 to Juvenile Court in order that restitution could be made.

Magistrate Baron suggested that the parents make their sons work for the amount each family was order to pay and also ordered the youths to be of good behavior, attend church and Sunday School and not to stay out later than 10 p. m. unless accompanied by the parents or elders.

Local Residents Get $12,875 In Damages

A jury in Washington County Circuit Court in Hagerstown Thursday returned a verdict of $12,875 for two Cumberlanders who claimed damages as a result of an automobile accident.

The jury awarded $12,575 to Mrs. Julia Hager and $300 to her daughter, Nancy Hager. Suits were filed by Mrs. Hager and her daughter for $32,500 against Miss Rebecca Otto, LaVale, and were removed from the Allegany County Court to Hagerstown.

Mrs. Hager asked for $30,000, claiming she received neck and spine injuries in an accident on Route 40 in the Narrows on September 26, 1953. It was stated the Hager car, driven by Mrs. Hager, was going west and that the Otto machine was going east on the wrong side of the highway when the machines struck.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hager were Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, of Cumberland and Charles Wagaman of Hagerstown. Defense attorneys were C. William Gilchrist of Cumberland and Edward Cooley of Hagerstown.

The youths were picked up by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the LaVale State Police barracks, and allegedly signed confessions to having committed at least 10 separate breaking and enterings and larcenies during the past six weeks

The amount of their thefts and damages totaled $149, and Magistrate Baron ordered the parents of the three youths to each pay $50 to Juvenile Court in order that restitution could be made.

Magistrate Baron suggested that the parents make their sons work for the amount each family was order to pay and also ordered the youths to be of good behavior, attend church and Sunday School and not to stay out later than 10 p. m. unless accompanied by the parents or elders.

About 30 miles above the earth the air is hot—about 170 degrees Fahrenheit.

SRC Seeks Bids On Route 55 Work

The State Roads Commission is advertising for bids for paving State Route 55 from Clarysville to Vale Summit.

The bids for resurfacing the 2.1 miles will be accepted until noon on Tuesday, April 19, at the SRC office in Baltimore.

Silver can be salvaged from old movie films.

Local Residents Get $12,875 In Damages

A jury in Washington County Circuit Court in Hagerstown Thursday returned a verdict of $12,875 for two Cumberlanders who claimed damages as a result of an automobile accident.

The jury awarded $12,575 to Mrs. Julia Hager and $300 to her daughter, Nancy Hager. Suits were filed by Mrs. Hager and her daughter for $32,500 against Miss Rebecca Otto, LaVale, and were removed from the Allegany County Court to Hagerstown.

Mrs. Hager asked for $30,000, claiming she received neck and spine injuries in an accident on Route 40 in the Narrows on September 26, 1953. It was stated the Hager car, driven by Mrs. Hager, was going west and that the Otto machine was going east on the wrong side of the highway when the machines struck.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hager were Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, of Cumberland and Charles Wagaman of Hagerstown. Defense attorneys were C. William Gilchrist of Cumberland and Edward Cooley of Hagerstown.

The first crop sent to England by the earliest Maryland settlers was sassafras roots, to be used as medicines.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Patrice Munsel, called one of the youngest—and certainly one of the most beautiful—opera stars lets us in on a professional secret. Though it has nothing to do with singing, her favorite hobby, fencing, has been very important to her career.

To quote this famous young singer, "Fencing gives you a wonderful stance . . . a grip and feeling of security that you need on the stage. It gives a woman grace and body sense."

I mention a well-known star like Miss Munsel because she proves my points about beauty and charm. She manages her motions as well as her emotions. It's her business to know how—as it is with any woman of charm and success who wishes to retain her looks and grace indefinitely. And, fencing is the exercise to help her.

Fencing Improves Posture

Of course, this is no surprise to Powers Girls who put fencing at the top of the list among exercises and sports. They know nothing equals fencing for maintaining perfect posture. Why? One has to have perfect balance to fence correctly. The result is grace in movement and a wonderful feeling of well-being . . . both so essential to any woman's charm.

No matter what your years, you can enjoy this age-old sport. In fact, fencing is a fine way for middle-aged people to keep their figures trim without overexertion. It has been called "the sport of the ages for all ages." According to the Girls—it's one sport where they can meet men on equal terms. So, let "Touche" be added to your vocabulary.

Like an actress you can face the world with the assurance of poise that one has with a well-balanced, vital body once you've learned how to move beautifully and gracefully. It means planned effort as described in my booklet, "Dance Through a Week to Beauty" (see below).

Body Control And Balance

Lynn Fontanne, Helen Hayes, Ruth Draper, and Cornelia Otis Skinner and many other "greats" whose skill has remained at the top for years—and their youthful figures are still admired — are devoted students of one kind or another system of body control.

Every successful actress has her own favorite way of keeping in trim—one that aims at unified body control and balance. Fencing heads the list, but they also go in for riding, or figure skating . . . and even serious gymnastics. They are getting lined up for grace and good posture . . . and action . . . constantly learning how to carry their bodies best in perfect balance. All their muscles are working in harmony. The result is perfection, whether it is Helen Hayes leaning back in a chair, or Lynn Fontanne floating down a stairway. And, it can mean you gliding across a dance floor.

Plato put the grace and posture story so aptly when he said, "The beautiful motion is that which produces the desired result with the least effort."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

It has been called "the sport of the ages for all ages." According to the Girls—it's one sport where they can meet men on equal terms. So, let "Touche" be added to your vocabulary.

Like an actress you can face the world with the assurance of poise that one has with a well-balanced, vital body once you've learned how to move beautifully and gracefully. It means planned effort as described in my booklet, "Dance Through a Week to Beauty" (see below).

Body Control And Balance

Lynn Fontanne, Helen Hayes, Ruth Draper, and Cornelia Otis Skinner and many other "greats" whose skill has remained at the top for years—and their youthful figures are still admired — are devoted students of one kind or another system of body control.

Every successful actress has her own favorite way of keeping in trim—one that aims at unified body control and balance. Fencing heads the list, but they also go in for riding, or figure skating . . . and even serious gymnastics. They are getting lined up for grace and good posture . . . and action . . . constantly learning how to carry their bodies best in perfect balance. All their muscles are working in harmony. The result is perfection, whether it is Helen Hayes leaning back in a chair, or Lynn Fontanne floating down a stairway. And, it can mean you gliding across a dance floor.

Plato put the grace and posture story so aptly when he said, "The beautiful motion is that which produces the desired result with the least effort."

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Delegation Will Act On Five Bills Today

Vote Machine, Juvenile Court Up

The Allegany County Delegation will vote this morning on five Senate bills affecting Allegany County.

The bills include plans for a reorganization of the Juvenile Court, the use of voting machines in next year's election, two measures affecting the Cumberland trial magistrates court and a plan making it unlawful for a county commissioner to be involved in a county business transaction.

Delegate Charles M. See, chairman, said the Delegation will act on Senate Bills 481, 502, 504, 528 and 572 at an executive session scheduled today at 9 a. m. at the State House in Annapolis.

Del. See said the members of the Delegation have discussed all of the bills but have not come to a decision on them. Action, he added, will be based on the majority vote of the six delegates.

Opinion Divided

The bills, all sponsored by Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble, include SB 572, which would provide for the use of voting machines in Allegany County next year.

Del. See said the delegates have opinions on both sides of the question but that he thinks the chances for Delegation backing of the mandatory measure are "fair."

He said one of the questions that has been raised is whether the county can afford to purchase the voting machines at this time.

Also slated is action on the plan for a comprehensive reorganization of the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The plan calls for a full-time magistrate for juvenile causes, a secretary-stenographer, clerk-cashier, a male and a female probation officer and a male and a female case worker. Two-thirds of the cost of the new court would be paid by the county and the other third by the City of Cumberland.

Two of the bills affect the Trial Magistrates Court in Cumberland. The first, SB 502, would eliminate constables at large for the court and the other, SB 528, provides that the trial magistrates may appoint clerical assistants this May, and that after the terms of these workers expire in 1959, appointments will be made by the county commissioners.

Seek Amendments

The bill provides a chief clerk of the court at a salary of $3,600, a secretary or clerk for each magistrate at salaries of $3,200 and a court bailiff at $3,000.

The last, SB 481, would make it unlawful for an Allegany County Commissioner to be financially involved in a county business transaction.

Shortly after the bill was introduced, Gorman E. Getty, attorney for County Commissioners, urged that the bill be amended to cover every county officer and employe.

Del. See said the Delegation is holding, pending action on the 1956 voting machine bill, a bill sponsored by Delegate Lester B. Reed to allow the Board of Election Supervisors discretion in the number of persons who would use each device.

Amend Two Bills

Two Allegany County bills were passed by the House Thursday after the Allegany County Delegation struck the mandatory requirements and made them enabling acts.

The measures, SB 583 and SB 586, both sponsored by Senator Kimble, were returned to the Senate for concurrence.

The first, SB 583, would authorize the Board of Allegany County

Allegany-Garrett Firemen Plan Meet Tomorrow

Session Set At McCoole

The regular monthly meeting of members of Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the McCoole Fire Hall.

David E. Kirk, president of the bi-county organization, yesterday afternoon said that tickets for the smoker planned April 16 at Barton will be distributed.

Among other business to be discussed will be the site for the Fire School scheduled April 30 and May 1. During the meeting a site will be selected.

The school is conducted under the supervision of the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland. A committee will be named at tomorrow's meeting to make arrangements for the parade which will be a feature of the Allegany County convention on June 9 at Shaft.

Also to be discussed will be plans for the state firemen's convention which will be held in Cumberland June 22 through June 24.

This week final tests of fire schools held at Kitzmiller, Grantsville and Clarysville were conducted by Curtis Larrimore, instructor of the Fire Service Extension of the University.

The schools were in charge of Cromwell Zembower, secretary of the bi-county association. Graduation exercises will be held sometime next month.

Accompanying Larrimore were Floyd B. Heimer, secretary of the State Firemen's Association and Vincent A. Simmel, secretary of the Board of Trustees.

125 Participate In First County PTA Workshop

The first workshop sponsored by the Allegany County Parent-Teacher Association Council was held Wednesday night at Frostburg State Teacher College with 125 officers, leaders, and committee members participating.

According to Mrs. Lester McGill, president, the group heard talks by county and state leaders, had dinner and then divided into six discussion groups.

These groups heard talks on various phases of the PTA program, studied the various and best means of putting these programs and projects into action, and viewed each in the light of possible local application.

Following the discussion periods, the delegates assembled again in the auditorium and a recorder from each discussion group reported on work of her particular section and progress made.

Mrs. McGill expressed the hope that workshops by the PTA Council can become an annual affair, at least, and many of those who attended urged her to encourage the idea.

Among the visitors and leaders were Mrs. Britten Martin, Mt. Lake Park, District I state vice president; Mrs. Stanley Cook, Indian Head, state legislative chairman; Mrs. Dorsey Griffith, Silver Spring, PTA field service worker; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, state chairman of cooperation with colleges, Miss Lillian C. Compton, a life member of PTA; and R. Bowen Hardesty, president of State Teachers College, who welcomed the guests.

Bonus Bill Passes Maryland Senate

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Senate passed 18-7 and sent to the House tonight a constitutional amendment for a $90,000,000 veterans' bonus.

The bonus bill, sponsored year after year by Senator Phoebus (R-Somerset), calls for added beer and whisky taxes to pay the $89,988,800 worth of bonds called for.

A constitutional amendment must go on the ballot at the next general election after the Legislature approves it.

Phoebus' bonus bill, it was generally conceded, would die in the House, which already had rejected a soldiers' bonus to be financed by a state lottery.

For almost a decade, the question of a bonus has been tossed back and forth between the two houses. None has ever been finally approved — either because both House and Senate failed to concur or it was vetoed by the governor.

Three Are Jailed After 2-Car Crash

Three persons were jailed last night following a two-car crash on Wineow Street at 9:15 p. m.

Theodore E. Bridges of Flintstone and William Edward Bowman, 119 Blaul Avenue, both were charged with two state motor vehicle violations, and Carl Dicken, 529 Fayette Street, also was held at City Jail on a misdemeanor charge.

City Police said Bridges was driving south on Wineow Street when his car and Bowman's northbound vehicle collided almost headon. Dicken, a passenger in Bridges' car, bumped his head on the windshield but was unhurt, police said. Both cars had to be towed away from the scene.

Investigating were Officers Harry A. Iser, Carl Williams and Joseph Harvey.

Rec Department Seeks Space For 100 Ball Teams

Will Ask Loan Of Temporary Fields

Plans for getting ball fields in the city in condition for the coming season, and securing other play areas on a temporary basis have been approved by the City Recreation Board, according to Robert E. Pence.

Pence said the Recreation Department will have nine fields available for the use of more than 100 baseball and softball teams, and that additional space must be secured, since several areas are satisfactory for practice but not for actual games.

The bright spot in the picture, he said, is that the department will have one new field this year — at Post Playground in South Cumberland.

He said the field there will be ready for use when a backstop is installed and a screen built along the first base line to protect children using the playground.

Stitcher Field, he reported, must be graded to provide better drainage of the playing area.

Penn Avenue Field, he said, will require considerable work, including repairs to the wind-damaged left field fence, bleachers, backstop and foul screen.

Community Park Field, he added, will be one of the first to be placed in shape, since LaSalle High School has asked to practice there. Work needed includes a new backstop, he added.

East Side Field will need minor repairs, including work on the backstop.

He said the department will ask permission, as in past years, for the use of Rolling Mill and Taylor fields.

Any needed preparations at Fort Hill High School and Allegany High School fields, he added, will be made by the schools.

He said the department will attempt to secure the loan of two or three other areas which can be used for practice or play, since 100 games must be scheduled each week.

Senate Kills New Utility Tax Setup

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Legislature once more rejected tonight the theory that properties of public utilities should be taxed in the city or county where they are located, rather than at the headquarters of the companies involved.

The action came in the State Senate, which upheld an unfavorable report of Finance Committee by a 16-7 vote.

Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), sponsor of the bill, made an impassioned plea to save it, aided by Senator Wheatley (D-Prince Georges) and some others whose counties would benefit by the tax shift.

The measure, known in other years as the Whitworth Bill from its author, former Del. Horace Whitworth of Allegany County, would reduce the personal property tax revenues from utilities in Baltimore City, Wicomico and Frederick counties. Others would gain.

Kimble termed the existing taxation law inequitable and unfair. Those subdivisions now getting this money are not entitled to it, he said.

Senator Ramsburg (R-Frederick) in turn urged defeat of the bill, because it would disrupt the budgets of subdivisions affected. He also argued that no exact figures on what would accrue elsewhere had ever been put forth.

WOW Circles To Convene Here May 16

Supreme Forest Woodmen Circles from Maryland and the District of Columbia will hold their annual convention at the Fort Cumberland Hotel on May 16.

During the afternoon ritualistic and memorial ceremonies will be held, and in the evening a banquet and entertainment will be held. A pageant will be presented by the junior members.

Between 50 and 60 delegates are expected to attend. During a meeting here last night committees were named by Mrs. Sommerkamp.

They are Mrs. Edna German, Mrs. Arlene Smith and Mrs. Sommerkamp, decorations; Mrs. Virginia McKenzie, Mrs. Vie Gibson, Mrs. Emma Boyer, entertainment.

The delegates to the convention from the local Grove will be Mrs. Nina Murphy and Mrs. Sommerkamp. Mrs. German is present state president.

State's Building Program Is Cut By Half-Million

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The General Assembly's financial committees have pared just a shade more than half a million dollars from Gov. McKeldin's proposal to spend more than 9½ million of borrowed money for state construction this year.

Hardest hit by the committees today was the Department of Mental Hygiene, which also underwent the heaviest cuts when the Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means committees worked over the state's operating budget for the coming year.

The committees actually trimmed $832,050 from the governor's proposal, but added $329,500 of their own, which cut the original of $9,698,300 figure to $9,195,750.

The mental hygiene cuts totaled $289,350—$182,000 of it for proposed renovations at Springfield State Hospital, all that had been asked for that facility.

Only $155,750 was trimmed from the total of $3,057,000 originally asked for the University of Maryland. The school's proposed library construction request was cut from $2,200,000 to $2,090,000 and $10,000 was cut from the $60,000 requested for construction of a home for the university president. Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) has threatened to attempt further cuts for the library which he called a "marble palace."

The biggest increase was given the Department of Education, which was allotted $175,000 more than the original request, $265,000, of which $95,000 was for completion of two dormitories at Frostburg State Teachers College. Another $70,000 would be for completion of a library at Salisbury State Teachers College.

The Board of Public Works was given another $140,000 for allotment to jail improvements.

The Department of Correction's funds were cut by $98,850, most of them merely adjustments in proposed building costs for a number of projects.

Projects under the capital improvements program are built with money received from the sale of bonds by the State.

Sewage Treatment Plant Levee Work Slated Next Week

The contractor who is building Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant may begin laying a levee around the plant area next week.

Since late in February, the Moyer Brothers Company, of Altoona, Pa., has been stripping topsoil from the plant site and cleaning out for the levee which will protect the treatment plant from Potomac River flood waters.

Topsoil which has been stripped during the past few weeks has been set aside for use when the plant is built.

The earth levee will entirely surround the plant site. It will average 12 feet in height, be six feet wide at the top and about 42 feet wide at its base.

Walsh On Committee For State Conference

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh of Cumberland will represent the Maryland Bar Association as a member of the program committee for the first annual Maryland Conference on Citizenship in the State House at Annapolis April 30.

Three hundred delegates from various Maryland organizations will be invited to participate in the all-day meeting with the aim of helping civic groups to promote better citizenship.

The conference parallels the National Conference on Citizenship, sponsored for the past nine years by the U. S. Department of Justice and the National Education Association.

Holy Name To Meet

St. Patrick's Holy Name Society will meet after the evening service Sunday, in the parish social center, with James B. Reinhart, president, in charge.

Easter Lily Parade Slated In Cumberland, Area Today

Today and next Saturday the Easter Lily Parade, being held in conjunction with the current Easter Seal campaign, the only direct appeal by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, will be conducted in Cumberland, Frostburg, and Lonaconing.

The parade, according to William R. Carscaden, chairman, will be held each day from 10 a. m. through 5 p. m. Here in Cumberland, the main concentration will be at Baltimore and Centre streets, with members of Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles participating.

In Frostburg members of the Moose Lodge there will be in charge and in Lonaconing, members of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, will participate and will be assisted by the 4-H Club of that community.

Next Saturday, the parade here will be in charge of members of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose. The same organizations will be in charge at Frostburg and Lonaconing on that day.

Approximately 50 per cent of the goal of $8,000 has been reached to date, Carscaden pointed out, and he is making a special appeal to those residents who have received seals to send in their contributions.

The proceeds are used for general purposes of the League, he added.

The budget this year amounts to $25,000 and the present case load is 1,016 underprivileged crippled children of Allegany County.

Through its work, the League provides medical examinations, treatment, hospitalization when required, and braces. The staff includes speech, physical and other therapists.

Skilled personnel include Baltimore specialists trained in such work. Carscaden appeals to the county residents to make this year's campaign a success.

Emmanuel Methodist Plans Special Services

Emmanuel Methodist Church on Humbird Street will observe Palm Sunday with special services, Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor, announced yesterday.

New members will be received at the morning worship service and the sacrament of baptism will be administered. The junior and senior choirs will sing, with Mrs. Grace Bishop as director and Mrs. Herman Walker as accompanist. The service for reception of new members and the baptism service will be repeated at the evening worship service.

On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the choir will present special music, and the pastor will present a chalk drawing. Holy Communion will be administered at a candlelight service Holy Thursday at 7:30, and on Friday evening the meditation will be devoted to the Crucifixion, and the choirs will sing during the service.

Legislature Bulletins

McKeldin Signs Movie Censorship Limitation

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin signed into law tonight a bill designed to bring Maryland laws in line with recent Supreme Court decisions limiting the grounds for movie censorship.

The measure, among 57 signed by the governor, also specifically excludes newsreels. Companion bills were passed in this General Assembly session to make up the loss in fees that will result from the state's censorship board by the newsreel exclusion.

The new law restricts reasons for banning movies to obscenity, debasing morals or inciting crime and permits appeals to the Court of Appeals.

Referred To Council

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today defeated, at least for this year, an attempt to have the State Roads Commission pay cost of relocating utilities if it modifies a road along which they are located.

The measure, which Russell H. McCain, SRC chairman, estimated would cost the 12-year highway construction program about 20-million dollars, was referred to the Legislative Council for further study.

License Hike Delay

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—Those $5-$7 increases in fees for motor vehicle registration, approved in 1953 to finance Maryland's big road program, would be postponed for still another year under a bill enacted by the House today.

Passage of the measure climaxed another long fight by Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) to keep the hikes from going into effect. Earlier this session he succeeded in having the effective date postponed from this year to 1956. His new measure puts them off until 1957.

The State Roads Commission has strenuously opposed Malkus' campaign, contending the increases are necessary to its highway maintenance program.

State Police Pay Hiked

Another reduction in how much money may be available for the roads plan in the future came when the House passed and sent to Gov. McKeldin a bill to raise state police salaries $500 across the board. This boosted the scale to $2,950 for probationary troopers and to $8,500 for the superintendent of the force. The raises, to come from motor vehicle revenues, are expected to total about $200,000 a year.

Bridge Toll Lifted

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Patuxent River bridge between Calvert and Charles counties, which never has paid its way, tonight was freed of tolls, effective next December 1.

Allegany County 4-H Clubs Planting Trees As Project

A number of tree planting programs conducted as projects of 4-H Club members of Allegany County will pay off in future years and will also aid in soil conservation by cutting down on erosion.

Today members of the 4-H Mountaineer Rifle Club will plant some 2,500 trees on property located about half-way up Big Savage Mountain on Route 40.

James Weamert, assistant county agent, who is in charge of 4-H Club work, last night said the trees are half Scotch pine and half Norway spruce.

Members of the Rifle Club live in the Frostburg area. They will be assisted by the owner of the land and also by their two leaders, William Morley and Henry Yates.

Thus far almost 15,000 trees have been planted by 4-H boys and 4-H Clubs throughout the country. Many of the clubs are doing such work as a group project.

The trees are furnished by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks and were acquired through Harry Hartman, farm forester of the district forester's office here.

Assisting in the tree planting work are Brook Bodkin, senior forest supervisor, and local 4-H club leaders. Weamert pointed out that the 4-H'ers contact the owner of land on which tree planting would be beneficial and get permission to do the work.

The trees are usually planted on barren land unsuitable for agricultural purposes, he added.

Senate, House To Iron Out Tax Disputes

Conference May Be Held Today

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—House and Senate sped along divergent paths today toward a conference committee to iron out Maryland's tax problems. The session conference appeared likely to be held tomorrow with the General Assembly only two working days away from final adjournment.

The Senate also began moving today Gov. McKeldin's capital improvements program for construction of state buildings and other facilities. More than half a million dollars was trimmed off the original $9,698,300 total.

The House approved by voice vote a plan of its Ways and Means Committee to raise 30 million dollars additional revenue next fiscal year by boosting income taxes, having them collected by the employer and putting the 2 per cent sales tax on equipment leased by companies.

It was scheduled for a passage vote at the night session.

The Senate also planned a final vote tonight on a different plan by its Finance Committee—to leave the income tax at its present rate but make use of 8½ million dollars which counties and cities are scheduled to get from the State's going on a withholding basis for income taxes.

No Move To Raise Sales Tax

The senators also would apply the sales tax to leased equipment and in addition tax machinery and other equipment bought out of State when it cannot be readily obtained in Maryland. Neither of the legislative plans raises the sales tax or lowers its base, which the Democrats clearly regard as political dynamite.

Caught in the middle between the two is Gov. McKeldin's original proposal to boost income and sales taxes by one per cent each and place the State on a pay-as-you-go income tax method.

The withholding of State income taxes by employers, similar to the method now used for federal tax, is a common feature of all three plans. It would produce from 25 to 28 million dollars its first year by forcing collection of back taxes in the same year current taxes are being paid.

Most of the opposition to the Republican chief executive's program has centered around its sales tax increase feature and the fact that it would produce 7 million dollars more money when the State has to have it next year.

Senate Majority Leader Turnbull (D-Balto County) asked and received permission from his colleagues this afternoon to lay the groundwork for meetings with House representatives on the tax program, even though the Senate had not given final endorsement to its own plan at that time.

The House Democratic leadership announced today that the party could take credit already for a reduction of more than half a cent in the state property tax.

Scheduled to be 11.5 cents per $100 valuation, it was reduced to 10.9 as a result of the Legislature speeding up annual assessments by one year. It's effective on 1955 assessments.

Conference Necessary

There was no opposition voiced and few questions asked as Del. Boone (D-Balto County), majority floor leader, guided the Ways and Means Committee tax proposals through.

Del. Derr (R-Frederick), minority floor leader, said the Republicans did not plan to oppose them now since a conference with the Senate would be necessary. He indicated the administration would see what developed before making a final stand on its own program.

The bond bill which came out reduced by $502,500 in the Senate today included cuts of some projects Gov. McKeldin had listed and addition of others by the finance committees of the two houses.

Among the cuts was $110,000 shaved off the original $2,200,000 requested for a new library at the University of Maryland and $10,000 off the $60,000 requested for the university president's home. The university's overall cuts totaled $155,750 out of $3,057,000 requested.

Most departments fell under the pruning knife for some losses. One of the largest percentage whacks was $107,000 off original requests totaling $697,000 for Morgan State College.

These committee changes still had to be approved by both houses before taking effect.

Delegation Will Act On Five Bills Today

Vote Machine, Juvenile Court Up

The Allegany County Delegation will vote this morning on five Senate bills affecting Allegany County.

The bills include plans for a reorganization of the Juvenile Court, the use of voting machines in next year's election, two measures affecting the Cumberland trial magistrates court and a plan making it unlawful for a county commissioner to be involved in a county business transaction.

Delegate Charles M. See, chairman, said the Delegation will act on Senate Bills 481, 502, 504, 528 and 572 at an executive session scheduled today at 9 a. m. at the State House in Annapolis.

Del. See said the members of the Delegation have discussed all of the bills but have not come to a decision on them. Action, he added, will be based on the majority vote of the six delegates.

Opinion Divided

The bills, all sponsored by Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble, include SB 572, which would provide for the use of voting machines in Allegany County next year.

Del. See said the delegates have opinions on both sides of the question but that he thinks the chances for Delegation backing of the mandatory measure are "fair."

He said one of the questions that has been raised is whether the county can afford to purchase the voting machines at this time.

Also slated is action on the plan for a comprehensive reorganization of the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The plan calls for a full-time magistrate for juvenile causes, a secretary-stenographer, clerk-cashier, a male and a female probation officer and a male and a female case worker. Two-thirds of the cost of the new court would be paid by the county and the other third by the City of Cumberland.

Two of the bills affect the Trial Magistrates Court in Cumberland. The first, SB 502, would eliminate constables at large for the court and the other, SB 528, provides that the trial magistrates may appoint clerical assistants this May, and that after the terms of these workers expire in 1959, appointments will be made by the county commissioners.

Seek Amendments

The bill provides a chief clerk of the court at a salary of $3,600, a secretary or clerk for each magistrate at salaries of $3,200 and a court bailiff at $3,000.

The last, SB 481, would make it unlawful for an Allegany County Commissioner to be financially involved in a county business transaction.

Shortly after the bill was introduced, Gorman E. Getty, attorney for County Commissioners, urged that the bill be amended to cover every county officer and employe.

Del. See said the Delegation is holding, pending action on the 1956 voting machine bill, a bill sponsored by Delegate Lester B. Reed to allow the Board of Election Supervisors discretion in the number of persons who would use each device.

Amend Two Bills

Two Allegany County bills were passed by the House Thursday after the Allegany County Delegation struck the mandatory requirements and made them enabling acts.

The measures, SB 583 and SB 586, both sponsored by Senator Kimble, were returned to the Senate for concurrence.

The first, SB 583, would authorize the Board of Allegany County

Allegany-Garrett Firemen Plan Meet Tomorrow

Session Set At McCoole

The regular monthly meeting of members of Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the McCoole Fire Hall.

David E. Kirk, president of the bi-county organization, yesterday afternoon said that tickets for the smoker planned April 16 at Barton will be distributed.

Among other business to be discussed will be the site for the Fire School scheduled April 30 and May 1. During the meeting a site will be selected.

The school is conducted under the supervision of the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland. A committee will be named at tomorrow's meeting to make arrangements for the parade which will be a feature of the Allegany County convention on June 9 at Shaft.

Also to be discussed will be plans for the state firemen's convention which will be held in Cumberland June 22 through June 24.

This week final tests of fire schools held at Kitzmiller, Grantsville and Clarysville were conducted by Curtis Larrimore, instructor of the Fire Service Extension of the University.

The schools were in charge of Cromwell Zembower, secretary of the bi-county association. Graduation exercises will be held sometime next month.

Accompanying Larrimore were Floyd B. Heimer, secretary of the State Firemen's Association and Vincent A. Simmel, secretary of the Board of Trustees.

125 Participate In First County PTA Workshop

The first workshop sponsored by the Allegany County Parent-Teacher Association Council was held Wednesday night at Frostburg State Teacher College with 125 officers, leaders, and committee members participating.

According to Mrs. Lester McGill, president, the group heard talks by county and state leaders, had dinner and then divided into six discussion groups.

These groups heard talks on various phases of the PTA program, studied the various and best means of putting these programs and projects into action, and viewed each in the light of possible local application.

Following the discussion periods, the delegates assembled again in the auditorium and a recorder from each discussion group reported on work of her particular section and progress made.

Mrs. McGill expressed the hope that workshops by the PTA Council can become an annual affair, at least, and many of those who attended urged her to encourage the idea.

Among the visitors and leaders were Mrs. Britten Martin, Mt. Lake Park, District I state vice president; Mrs. Stanley Cook, Indian Head, state legislative chairman; Mrs. Dorsey Griffith, Silver Spring, PTA field service worker; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, state chairman of cooperation with colleges, Miss Lillian C. Compton, a life member of PTA; and R. Bowen Hardesty, president of State Teachers College, who welcomed the guests.

Bonus Bill Passes Maryland Senate

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Senate passed 18-7 and sent to the House tonight a constitutional amendment for a $90,000,000 veterans' bonus.

The bonus bill, sponsored year after year by Senator Phoebus (R-Somerset), calls for added beer and whisky taxes to pay the $89,988,800 worth of bonds called for.

A constitutional amendment must go on the ballot at the next general election after the Legislature approves it.

Phoebus' bonus bill, it was generally conceded, would die in the House, which already had rejected a soldiers' bonus to be financed by a state lottery.

For almost a decade, the question of a bonus has been tossed back and forth between the two houses. None has ever been finally approved — either because both House and Senate failed to concur or it was vetoed by the governor.

Three Are Jailed After 2-Car Crash

Three persons were jailed last night following a two-car crash on Wineow Street at 9:15 p. m.

Theodore E. Bridges of Flintstone and William Edward Bowman, 119 Blaul Avenue, both were charged with two state motor vehicle violations, and Carl Dicken, 529 Fayette Street, also was held at City Jail on a misdemeanor charge.

City Police said Bridges was driving south on Wineow Street when his car and Bowman's northbound vehicle collided almost headon. Dicken, a passenger in Bridges' car, bumped his head on the windshield but was unhurt, police said. Both cars had to be towed away from the scene.

Investigating were Officers Harry A. Iser, Carl Williams and Joseph Harvey.

Rec Department Seeks Space For 100 Ball Teams

Will Ask Loan Of Temporary Fields

Plans for getting ball fields in the city in condition for the coming season, and securing other play areas on a temporary basis have been approved by the City Recreation Board, according to Robert E. Pence.

Pence said the Recreation Department will have nine fields available for the use of more than 100 baseball and softball teams, and that additional space must be secured, since several areas are satisfactory for practice but not for actual games.

The bright spot in the picture, he said, is that the department will have one new field this year — at Post Playground in South Cumberland.

He said the field there will be ready for use when a backstop is installed and a screen built along the first base line to protect children using the playground.

Stitcher Field, he reported, must be graded to provide better drainage of the playing area.

Penn Avenue Field, he said, will require considerable work, including repairs to the wind-damaged left field fence, bleachers, backstop and foul screen.

Community Park Field, he added, will be one of the first to be placed in shape, since LaSalle High School has asked to practice there. Work needed includes a new backstop, he added.

East Side Field will need minor repairs, including work on the backstop.

He said the department will ask permission, as in past years, for the use of Rolling Mill and Taylor fields.

Any needed preparations at Fort Hill High School and Allegany High School fields, he added, will be made by the schools.

He said the department will attempt to secure the loan of two or three other areas which can be used for practice or play, since 100 games must be scheduled each week.

Senate Kills New Utility Tax Setup

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Legislature once more rejected tonight the theory that properties of public utilities should be taxed in the city or county where they are located, rather than at the headquarters of the companies involved.

The action came in the State Senate, which upheld an unfavorable report of Finance Committee by a 16-7 vote.

Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), sponsor of the bill, made an impassioned plea to save it, aided by Senator Wheatley (D-Prince Georges) and some others whose counties would benefit by the tax shift.

The measure, known in other years as the Whitworth Bill from its author, former Del. Horace Whitworth of Allegany County, would reduce the personal property tax revenues from utilities in Baltimore City, Wicomico and Frederick counties. Others would gain.

Kimble termed the existing taxation law inequitable and unfair. Those subdivisions now getting this money are not entitled to it, he said.

Senator Ramsburg (R-Frederick) in turn urged defeat of the bill, because it would disrupt the budgets of subdivisions affected. He also argued that no exact figures on what would accrue elsewhere had ever been put forth.

State's Building Program Is Cut By Half-Million

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The General Assembly's financial committees have pared just a shade more than half a million dollars from Gov. McKeldin's proposal to spend more than 9½ million of borrowed money for state construction this year.

Hardest hit by the committees today was the Department of Mental Hygiene, which also underwent the heaviest cuts when the Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means committees worked over the state's operating budget for the coming year.

The committees actually trimmed $832,050 from the governor's proposal, but added $329,500 of their own, which cut the original of $9,698,300 figure to $9,195,750.

The mental hygiene cuts totaled $289,350—$182,000 of it for proposed renovations at Springfield State Hospital, all that had been asked for that facility.

Only $155,750 was trimmed from the total of $3,057,000 originally asked for the University of Maryland. The school's proposed library construction request was cut from $2,200,000 to $2,090,000 and $10,000 was cut from the $60,000 requested for construction of a home for the university president. Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) has threatened to attempt further cuts for the library which he called a "marble palace."

The biggest increase was given the Department of Education, which was allotted $175,000 more than the original request, $265,000, of which $95,000 was for completion of two dormitories at Frostburg State Teachers College. Another $70,000 would be for completion of a library at Salisbury State Teachers College.

The Board of Public Works was given another $140,000 for allotment to jail improvements.

The Department of Correction's funds were cut by $98,850, most of them merely adjustments in proposed building costs for a number of projects.

Projects under the capital improvements program are built with money received from the sale of bonds by the State.

Sewage Treatment Plant Levee Work Slated Next Week

The contractor who is building Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant may begin laying a levee around the plant area next week.

Since late in February, the Moyer Brothers Company, of Altoona, Pa., has been stripping topsoil from the plant site and cleaning out for the levee which will protect the treatment plant from Potomac River flood waters.

Topsoil which has been stripped during the past few weeks has been set aside for use when the plant is built.

The earth levee will entirely surround the plant site. It will average 12 feet in height, be six feet wide at the top and about 42 feet wide at its base.

Walsh On Committee For State Conference

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh of Cumberland will represent the Maryland Bar Association as a member of the program committee for the first annual Maryland Conference on Citizenship in the State House at Annapolis April 30.

Three hundred delegates from various Maryland organizations will be invited to participate in the all-day meeting with the aim of helping civic groups to promote better citizenship.

The conference parallels the National Conference on Citizenship, sponsored for the past nine years by the U. S. Department of Justice and the National Education Association.

Holy Name To Meet

St. Patrick's Holy Name Society will meet after the evening service Sunday, in the parish social center, with James B. Reinhart, president, in charge.

Easter Lily Parade Slated In Cumberland, Area Today

Today and next Saturday the Easter Lily Parade, being held in conjunction with the current Easter Seal campaign, the only direct appeal by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, will be conducted in Cumberland, Frostburg, and Lonaconing.

The parade, according to William R. Carscaden, chairman, will be held each day from 10 a. m. through 5 p. m. Here in Cumberland, the main concentration will be at Baltimore and Centre streets, with members of Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles participating.

In Frostburg members of the Moose Lodge there will be in charge and in Lonaconing, members of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, will participate and will be assisted by the 4-H Club of that community.

Next Saturday, the parade here will be in charge of members of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose. The same organizations will be in charge at Frostburg and Lonaconing on that day.

Approximately 50 per cent of the goal of $8,000 has been reached to date, Carscaden pointed out, and he is making a special appeal to those residents who have received seals to send in their contributions.

The proceeds are used for general purposes of the League, he added.

The budget this year amounts to $25,000 and the present case load is 1,016 underprivileged crippled children of Allegany County.

Through its work, the League provides medical examinations, treatment, hospitalization when required, and braces. The staff includes speech, physical and other therapists.

Skilled personnel include Baltimore specialists trained in such work. Carscaden appeals to the county residents to make this year's campaign a success.

Emmanuel Methodist Plans Special Services

Emmanuel Methodist Church on Humbird Street will observe Palm Sunday with special services, Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor, announced yesterday.

The junior and senior choirs will sing, with Mrs. Grace Bishop as director and Mrs. Herman Walker as accompanist. The service for reception of new members and the baptism service will be repeated at the evening worship service.

On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the choir will present special music, and the pastor will present a chalk drawing. Holy Communion will be administered at a candlelight service Holy Thursday at 7:30, and on Friday evening the meditation will be devoted to the Crucifixion, and the choirs will sing during the service.

Legislature Bulletins

McKeldin Signs Movie Censorship Limitation

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin signed into law tonight a bill designed to bring Maryland laws in line with recent Supreme Court decisions limiting the grounds for movie censorship.

The measure, among 57 signed by the governor, also specifically excludes newsreels. Companion bills were passed in this General Assembly session to make up the loss in fees that will result from the state's censorship board by the newsreel exclusion.

The new law restricts reasons for banning movies to obscenity, debasing morals or inciting crime and permits appeals to the Court of Appeals.

Referred To Council

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today defeated, at least for this year, an attempt to have the State Roads Commission pay cost of relocating utilities if it modifies a road along which they are located.

The measure, which Russell H. McCain, SRC chairman, estimated would cost the 12-year highway construction program about 20-million dollars, was referred to the Legislative Council for further study.

License Hike Delay

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—Those $5-$7 increases in fees for motor vehicle registration, approved in 1953 to finance Maryland's big road program, would be postponed for still another year under a bill enacted by the House today.

Passage of the measure climaxed another long fight by Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) to keep the hikes from going into effect. Earlier this session he succeeded in having the effective date postponed from this year to 1956. His new measure puts them off until 1957.

The State Roads Commission has strenuously opposed Malkus' campaign, contending the increases are necessary to its highway maintenance program.

State Police Pay Hiked

Another reduction in how much money may be available for the roads plan in the future came when the House passed and sent to Gov. McKeldin a bill to raise state police salaries $500 across the board. This boosted the scale to $2,950 for probationary troopers and to $8,500 for the superintendent of the force. The raises, to come from motor vehicle revenues, are expected to total about $200,000 a year.

Bridge Toll Lifted

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP) — The Patuxent River bridge between Calvert and Charles counties, which never has paid its way, tonight was freed of tolls, effective next December 1.

Allegany County 4-H Clubs Planting Trees As Project

A number of tree planting programs conducted as projects of 4-H Club members of Allegany County will pay off in future years and will also aid in soil conservation by cutting down on erosion.

Today members of the 4-H Mountaineer Rifle Club will plant some 2,500 trees on property located about half-way up Big Savage Mountain on Route 40.

James Weamert, assistant county agent, who is in charge of 4-H Club work, last night said the trees are half Scotch pine and half Norway spruce.

Members of the Rifle Club live in the Frostburg area. They will be assisted by the owner of the land and also by their two leaders, William Morley and Henry Yates.

Thus far almost 15,000 trees have been planted by 4-H boys and 4-H Clubs throughout the country. Many of the clubs are doing such work as a group project.

The trees are furnished by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks and were acquired through Harry Hartman, farm forester of the district forester's office here.

Assisting in the tree planting work are Brook Bodkin, senior forest supervisor, and local 4-H club leaders. Weamert pointed out that the 4-H'ers contact the owner of land on which tree planting would be beneficial and get permission to do the work.

The trees are usually planted on barren land unsuitable for agricultural purposes, he added.

Senate, House To Iron Out Tax Disputes

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—House and Senate sped along divergent paths today toward a conference committee to iron out Maryland's tax problems. The session conference appeared likely to be held tomorrow with the General Assembly only two working days away from final adjournment.

The Senate also began moving today Gov. McKeldin's capital improvements program for construction of state buildings and other facilities. More than half a million dollars was trimmed off the original $9,698,300 total.

The House approved by voice vote a plan of its Ways and Means Committee to raise 30 million dollars additional revenue next fiscal year by boosting income taxes, having them collected by the employer and putting the 2 per cent sales tax on equipment leased by companies.

It was scheduled for a passage vote at the night session.

The Senate also planned a final vote tonight on a different plan by its Finance Committee—to leave the income tax at its present rate but make use of 8½ million dollars which counties and cities are scheduled to get from the State's going on a withholding basis for income taxes.

No Move To Raise Sales Tax

The senators also would apply the sales tax to leased equipment and in addition tax machinery and other equipment bought out of State when it cannot be readily obtained in Maryland. Neither of the legislative plans raises the sales tax or lowers its base, which the Democrats clearly regard as political dynamite.

Caught in the middle between the two is Gov. McKeldin's original proposal to boost income and sales taxes by one per cent each and place the State on a pay-as-you-go income tax method.

The withholding of State income taxes by employers, similar to the method now used for federal tax, is a common feature of all three plans. It would produce from 25 to 28 million dollars its first year by forcing collection of back taxes in the same year current taxes are being paid.

Most of the opposition to the Republican chief executive's program has centered around its sales tax increase feature and the fact that it would produce 7 million dollars more money when the State has to have it next year.

Senate Majority Leader Turnbull (D-Balto County) asked and received permission from his colleagues this afternoon to lay the groundwork for meetings with House representatives on the tax program, even though the Senate had not given final endorsement to its own plan at that time.

The House Democratic leadership announced today that the party could take credit already for a reduction of more than half a cent in the state property tax.

Scheduled to be 11.5 cents per $100 valuation, it was reduced to 10.9 as a result of the Legislature speeding up annual assessments by one year. It's effective on 1955 assessments.

Conference Necessary

There was no opposition voiced and few questions asked as Del. Boone (D-Balto County), majority floor leader, guided the Ways and Means Committee tax proposals through.

Del. Derr (R-Frederick), minority floor leader, said the Republicans did not plan to oppose them now since a conference with the Senate would be necessary. He indicated the administration would see what developed before making a final stand on its own program.

The bond bill which came out reduced by $502,500 in the Senate today included cuts of some projects Gov. McKeldin had listed and addition of others by the finance committees of the two houses.

Among the cuts was $110,000 shaved off the original $2,200,000 requested for a new library at the University of Maryland and $10,000 off the $60,000 requested for the university president's home. The university's overall cuts totaled $155,750 out of $3,057,000 requested.

Most departments fell under the pruning knife for some losses. One of the largest percentage whacks was $107,000 off original requests totaling $697,000 for Morgan State College.

These committee changes still had to be approved by both houses before taking effect.
